District Attorney Tells Peace Officers Meeting Interpretation Of Law

ATTORNEYS DISAGREE

Police Chief Howard After Ruling From Downing Says To Make Arrests

WHILE DISTRICT ATTORNEY S. B. KAUFMAN COULD NOT BE REACHED THIS MORNING FOR A STATEMENT RELATIVE TO THE COUNTY DRY ORDINANCE AND ITS ENFORCEMENT AFTER TOMORROW WHEN ALCOHOLIC BEER BECOMES A LEGAL BEVERAGE IN MANY PARTS OF THE UNITED STATES, CITY AND COUNTY PEACE OFFICERS ISSUED WARNING THAT CITY AND COUNTY ORDINANCES PREVENTING THE SALE, TRANSPORTATION OR POSSESSION OF LIQUOR WOULD BE STRICTLY ENFORCED.

At the monthly meeting of the Orange County Peace Officers' association, held last night in Brea, District Attorney Kaufman declared that the county ordinance prohibiting the transportation of liquor will be strictly enforced. Other attorneys in the county, who have studied the county's liquor ordinance declare that under one clause in the law beer can be delivered to anyone outside the incorporated cities and can be transported through dry territory by those lawfully permitted to manufacture the liquor.

The clause, the wording of which attorneys declare is broad enough to permit delivery of alcoholic beer outside the incorporated cities, was included in the ordinance. It is said, to permit distilleries to deliver whiskey to drug stores permitted to sell it under the law.

Attorneys who have studied the ordinance, however, point out that it is unlawful for the individual to transport beer or any other alcoholic beverage. Such individuals attempting to transport beer will face the possibility of arrest, according to Under Sheriff C. W. Riggie in a statement today.

Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard declared that he has been advised by City Attorney Clyde Downing that the present Santa Ana city ordinance permitting nothing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol, is valid, and that the police department will continue to enforce the statute and that authorization of alcoholic beer in many parts of the country will not affect the diligence of the department in enforcing the law here. City Attorney Clyde Downing repeated his former statement regarding beer, that the beverage is illegal here and that prosecution would follow all arrests made.

EARL DERR BIGGERS FUNERAL ON FRIDAY

PASADENA, April 6.—(UP)—The funeral of Earl Derr Biggers, author and creator of the Chinese detective character Charlie Chan, who died here late yesterday, will be held tomorrow at the Neighborhood church.

Biggers, a resident here since 1925, was stricken with a heart illness last week while resting at Palm Springs, popular desert playground of Hollywood.

His wife and son, who flew to his bedside from the East, were with him at the time of his death.

Sleeps 13 Days From Effects Of Anaesthetic

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 6.—(UP)—Two of Arthur M. Jones' teeth were extracted by a dentist 13 days ago.

Today—300 hours later—he was still unconscious from the effects of an anesthetic. His condition was reported unchanged.

Medical authorities described the unusual occurrence by explaining that one person in millions is so susceptible to the influence of anesthetics that a deep sleep, difficult to end, often results.

FOREIGN LOAN RESTRICTIONS TO BE DRASTIC

Hiram Johnson Sponsoring Restrictions On Sale Of Securities

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—Powerful pressure was developing in the senate today to extend far beyond administration intentions restrictions to be placed on sale of foreign securities in this country.

Sudden realization of the extent to which congressional sentiment is developing has persuaded the administration on its own initiative to propose material tightening of foreign loan regulations.

Senator Johnson, Repn., Calif., who a year ago exposed methods of American investment bankers in the flotation of foreign loans, sponsored the drastic regulations which will be proposed in the senate.

Johnson told the United Press today he had no desire to substitute his own bill for that offered by the administration. But unless the administration bill is strengthened, Johnson will offer his as an amendment.

Chairman Ashurst of the senate judiciary committee has appointed a sympathetic subcommittee to consider the Johnson bill. Ashurst will report favorably to the senate this week another Johnson measure to prohibit flotation in the United States of bonds of a government which has defaulted its debts to this government.

NORMAN DAVIS AND HERriot IN PARLEY

PARIS, April 6.—(UP)—Norman Davis, American ambassador at large, conferred today with Edouard Herriot, former French premier and chairman of the foreign affairs commission of the chamber of deputies. Davis is in Europe preparing the way for debt and economic conferences.

While Davis and Herriot conferred semi-officially on debts due the United States, the United Press learned that France and Great Britain were pressing Davis to ask President Roosevelt to summon experts to Washington in the immediate future for conversations preliminary to the world economic conference. The French and British particularly want the conference to begin before the American congress adjourns, hoping that congress will vote a moratorium on war debts before the mid-June payments are due.

GOVERNOR ORDERS NARCOTIC INQUIRY

SACRAMENTO, April 6.—(UP)—Investigation of the state division of narcotics was off on a new tack today after Governor Rolph late yesterday ordered E. Raymond Cato, chief of the state highway patrol, to assist Joseph Anderson, San Francisco, former division chief, in the inquiry.

The governor conducted a secret hearing on the narcotics division yesterday attended by Anderson, George K. Home, present chief, and George Jarrett, chief deputy, whose abrupt dismissal precipitated the investigation. Rolph indicated Jarrett had been discharged on a general charge of disloyalty.

Jarrett, the governor said, denied the charge.

UNEMPLOYED COMMITTEE READY TO RESIGN IN BODY

Survivor Of Akron Makes His Report

Lieut. Comdr. Wiley Submits Official Story Of Disaster At Sea

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—Lieut. Comdr. Herbert V. Wiley, second in command of the dirigible Akron when it dived into the sea off the New Jersey coast carrying 73 men to their deaths, made the following official report of the disaster to his superior officers today:

U. S. S. Akron was destroyed when she crashed at sea about 20 miles southeast of Barnegat Inlet light at about 00:30 (12:30) April 4, 1933.

So far as known the only survivors are Lt. Comdr. H. V. Wiley, U. S. N., R. E. Deal, boatswain's mate, second class, U. S. N., and M. Erwin, metalsmith, second class. Except for slight bruises, the above named are ready for duty.

The U. S. S. Akron departed from Lakehurst at about 7:30, April 3, 1933, on a regularly scheduled flight, one of the missions of which was to calibrate radio direction finding station in the first naval district.

At the time of departure, the ship was in good condition, properly loaded and had on board about 73,000 pounds of fuel and 20,000 pounds of ballast. The ship was commanded by Comdr. F. C. McCard, U. S. N., and I was the executive officer.

Weather Foggy

All officers attached to the ship were on board, except the pilots of the airplane squadron. At the time of departure, the weather was foggy, the ceiling about 300 feet, and wind about 6 miles per hour from the northeast. After unmooring, the ship rose through the fog, the top of which was about 1200 feet and after circling the naval air station, which could be identified by the glow of lights through

LOCAL OPTION IS STRICKEN FROM STATE BEER BILL BY 41 TO 38 VOTE IN ASSEMBLY

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 6.—(UP)—Local option was stricken from the state beer regulation bill by the Assembly today. The vote was 41 to 38.

A sensational drive against local option led by Assemblyman William B. Hornblower, San Francisco, succeeded after brief but intensive debate.

Effect of Hornblower's amendment to the beer regulation bill is this:

Cities and counties cannot prevent the sale of 3.2 beer in their respective areas.

As the regulation bill reached the assembly floor, it provided that counties and cities could decide whether this beverage should be served within their boundaries.

Hornblower started his drive against the local option feature shortly after the lower house reconvened this morning.

"This is merely a dry bill," he declared. "When the people approved amendment No. 2 they definitely went on record against local option."

Commodity Prices Soar As Railroad Shares Make Spirited Recovery

NEW YORK, April 6.—(UP)—Soaring commodity prices and recovery on the stock exchange today after a last-hour decline yesterday.

Prices were steadily carried up until mid-afternoon, when profit-taking reduced gains. Gains of fractions to more than 2 points were retained to the finish.

Bonds responded to the improved stock and commodity tone and, with the exception of German issues, they moved higher. Easy money rates and prospect of a reduction in the 3-1/2 per cent New York Federal Reserve rediscount rate were factors in the rally. German issues broke 1 to 11 points and the mark declined to a new low for the year.

First stocks to rally on the exchange were the rails, which were hardest pressed yesterday. Rail bonds swung into line, especially the oversold Chicago & North-western group, which yesterday were driven down 1 to 24 points. Carriers met some profit-taking late in the day, but retained part of their gains.

For a time in the early trading business was at a rate of more

WOMEN'S CONCLAVE VOTES ON MOTIONS

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—Resolutions favoring capital punishment, support of the eighteenth amendment, disapproval of secret meetings of the state parole board and retention of the teacher's tenure act were before the convention of the Los Angeles District of California Federation of Women's clubs today.

Adoption or rejection of these resolutions by 1500 delegates was to be followed by election of officers, with Mrs. Grace Y. Hudson of South Pasadena scheduled to be elected president. The only office contested is that of recording secretary, with Mrs. Frank J. Wagner, Santa Monica, and Mrs. Harry E. Willis, Los Angeles, nominated.

VALLEE AND WIFE SEPARATED TODAY

NEW YORK, April 6.—(UP)—Rudy Vallee, the crooner, and his wife, the former Fay Webb of Santa Monica, Calif., have parted.

"They have come to a parting of the ways," said a statement issued by Hyman Bushel, counsel for the Vallees. "They have made an agreement adjusting their material affairs."

"They have not agreed to any divorce, although this is not meant to indicate that in the future proceedings for divorce may not be brought by either one party or the other."

As part of their agreement, Bushel said, the Vallees "have obligated themselves not to make their marital affairs a public matter."

Mrs. Vallee will return to California with her father, Police Chief Clarence Webb of Santa Monica.

STUDENTS' STRIKE IN CHICAGO GROWS

CHICAGO, April 6.—(UP)—A student strike on behalf of Chicago's unpaid school teachers spread sporadically through the extensive metropolitan school system today.

At Crane high school 200 students crowded through the halls and outside the building urging those inside to join in the walk-out. Principal H. H. Hagen said the agitators were from South Side schools.

HARVESTER MACHINE INVENTOR IS DEAD

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Funeral services will be conducted here late today for Severin Christian Anker-Holth, 75, inventor of the McCormick Harvesting Machine, who died Monday.

A native of Norway, Anker-Holth became chief engineer of the International Harvesting Machine company at the age of 24, and designed and invented mowers, reapers, corn-harvesters and the famous McCormick combine binder. He was credited with constructing the first successful caterpillar tractor, which he patented in 1885. He had lived here since 1920.

BELIEVE 11 KILLED IN SUDDEN SQUALL

HOQUIAM, Wash., April 6.—(UP)—At least 11 fishermen of the halibut fleet were lost when a sudden squall struck the fleet as it was crossing the outside Grays Harbor late Wednesday, and smashed or capsized seven boats, a checkup revealed today.

The coast guard cutters Redwing of Astoria and Staghornish of Seattle were searching for more bodies today.

The identified dead were William and Jack Saino of the boat Annie; Michael Heikkila of the J232; Charles Pictola and Joe Salo of the Alki; Alex Forsell of the Pacific; Victor Bjorsen, Wayne Wade and an unidentified man of the Ellen; Alex Backlund of the Axel and one other unidentified man.

CRAIG SENTENCED TO YEAR IN JAIL

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Convicted of attempting to persuade two men to kill his wife, Gerald Craig, former University of Southern California football star, today was sentenced to a year in the county jail by Superior Judge William S. Baird.

Craig was convicted of soliciting Earl Muren, a friend, and Detective Thomas Bryan to murder his wife, Mrs. Ethel Craig. Charges of attempted murder and conspiracy to murder were dismissed.

Judge Baird characterized Craig as "inhuman" in passing sentence. "It is beyond human ken how a man of Craig's education and position in life could conceive of such a crime," the jurist said.

ESTATE OF MIZNER LEFT TO L. A. FRIEND

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—The late Wilson Mizner, raconteur and writer, who was worth more than $10,000,000 at the height of the Florida boom, left an estate of undetermined value "to my friend, Florence Atkinson, of Los Angeles," according to terms of his will filed for probate today.

The only other persons mentioned in his will were two nieces, Alice Mizner, St. Louis, Mo., and Ysabel Chase, Pebble Beach, Cal., who were bequeathed $1 each.

The probate petition said the estate consisted of stocks of undetermined value and interest of more than $10,000 in the estate of Addison Mizner, his brother, now being probated in Palm Beach, Fla.

NAVY YARDS PLACED ON SHORTER WEEK

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—Secretary of Navy Swanson today ordered all navy yards and shore stations to start work immediately on a five and one-half day basis.

The order affects about 44,000 employees, and applies to officers and enlisted men as well as civilians at shore stations where civilians are employed.

The action was taken to conform with provisions of the Hoover and Roosevelt economy acts. The navy yard workers will have the 15 per cent reduction taken from their salaries under the Roosevelt act.

The yards previously were placed on a five-day week basis as a means of obtaining the 8-1-3 per cent cut ordered in the Hoover act, although a full day's loss of work amounted to slightly more than the required reduction at that time.

SIDNEY GRAVES IS RELEASED ON BAIL

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—(UP)—Sidney T. Graves, former county supervisor, under sentence of one to 14 years in prison on charges of accepting a bribe, was out of jail today on a $25,000 appeal bond.

Disposition of his appeal, made by his attorneys when Judge Fletcher Bowron denied his motion for a new trial, is expected to take a number of months.

In denying him the new trial, Judge Bowron declared Graves a "traitor to his government."

Graves was convicted last week on a grand jury indictment alleging he accepted a $30,000 bribe to use his influence in obtaining an $830,000 settlement for Ross, MacDonald & Kahn, contractors in the San Gabriel dam fiasco.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, April 6. (To the Editor of The Register:) Loving aviation like I do and believing in it like I do, this loss was a terrible jolt. My main friend among them was Admiral Moffett. We had been to two disarmament conferences together. I could always go to him and get a little inside news what the conference was trying to do. He was a grand soul. Moffett was the "propeller" of naval aviation. Now don't fly off and say that aviation is not safe, or not practical. There is certain things nature can do, whether it's an earthquake in California, a flood in Mississippi, a tornado in Ohio, or a drought in Arkansas. When nature enters into it, don't criticize.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Governor May Serve Beer In His Office

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—Governor Rolph believes the return of beer to California tomorrow will "put a heart in the people, will give them a 'pick-me-up' and make them forget the depression."

A barrel of beer for the governor will be brought from San Francisco to the capital by airplane.

"Will you serve beer in the office?" one newspaperman inquired.

"Well, if what Mrs. Roosevelt says is right—namely, that beer can be served in the White House—I don't see why I shouldn't do the same thing here," the governor replied.

Citizen's Group Is Facing Financial Emergency And Must Economize

THE CITIZEN'S Unemployment Emergency committee is about ready to quit.

This statement was made by J. S. Smart, chairman of the mayor's committee, at a meeting of the committee, Mayor Paul Witmer, Councilman A. P. Leteja, Supervisor W. C. Jerome and William Riddiman, manager of the Unemployed association, yesterday in committee headquarters in the Willard school building on North Main street.

Following an explanation by Smart of why the committee might be forced in the near future to cease supervision and direct aid to the Unemployed association, a motion was adopted recommending that a radically new plan outlined by Smart be adopted.

The committee and the Unemployed association face a serious financial emergency Smart pointed out, and the committee has been running behind at the rate of $300 a month, thus facing an impossible situation.

Under the plan proposed by Smart, which probably will be put into effect, the Unemployed association would be placed in practically the same status as before the citizens' committee was appointed.

They would handle their own clerical and office work, collect their food and handle their own funds. He suggested that enough money be borrowed to pay back bills, which would be repaid from an allowance of $100 a month by the committee from Community Chest funds.

Smart declared that operations probably would have to be suspended unless immediate and direct aid is forthcoming. A means suggested of accomplishing this was through the employment of members of the Unemployed association by the county in the re-

JOBLESS ARMY RECRUITED FOR WORK IN CAMPS

Large Cities In East Selecting First Contingent of 25,000

WASHINGTON, April 6.—(UP)—The vanguard of President Roosevelt's army of 250,000 unemployed was being enrolled today to work in the forest for $1 a day and their keep.

Labor department representatives in 16 large cities of the East and Middle West were selecting the first contingent of 25,000. It was hoped to have some of them headed for conditioning camps by nightfall.

The first recruits were unmarried men between 18 and 35, with dependents.

Robert Fechner, director of conservation relief work, explained that the first 25,000 were being enrolled in large cities because labor department representatives there already had obtained names of needy cases from relief agencies. In a few days enrollment offices will be set up in smaller communities and in the West to permit selection of the rest of the army.

The recruits will take an oath to remain in the conservation corps for six months, unless released earlier, and to obey all regulations on penalty of dismissal.

The recruits will be sent at once to regular U. S. army camps near their home cities. They will remain there two weeks, for physical examinations, instruction in their

SECOND GUASTI JR. CALLED BY DEATH

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—Secondo Guasti Jr., president and general manager of the Italian Vineyard company, died here early today.

The 42-year-old wealthy vineyardist had been under a physician's care since March 24.

Guasti owned the largest individual vineyard in the world at Guasti, Calif., consisting of 5000 acres.

He was prominent in business and social affairs of Southern California, holding membership in numerous clubs.

Guasti, survived by his widow, Gertrude Orreut Guasti and two sons, Secondo III and William Orreut Guasti, Guasti was born in Los Angeles April 14, 1891.

House Of Commons Today To Approve Measure Giving Drastic Power

SITUATION IS TENSE

Soviet Injects New Discord By Preparing For Trial Of Britishers Monday

LONDON, April 6.—(UP)—The house of commons met today to approve on third and final reading a measure that will give the cabinet full power to declare a complete embargo on Russian importations if it chooses to retaliate for the arrest of six British subjects by the Soviet government.

A wave of public indignation swept Britain as the trial of the men, accused of sabotage against the soviet regime, approached. Increasingly intense nationalism was apparent as citizens insisted that British subjects were to be respected and protected wherever they might be. Official quarters made no effort to restrain this attitude.

The house of commons was raised to its highest peak of emotion in months during yesterday's debate on the embargo measure when it was passed on second reading. Led by conservatives, every element of members except the laborites, vied in assailing the soviet "conception of justice." The government was urged repeatedly to pursue the most energetic policy against Russia.

After passage of the measure today, Britain will await the trial of the six men, starting Monday, before taking further action.

of the insane and while Mrs. Judd was found sane at her trial for Mrs. Leroy's murder, her attorney contended that she since has become insane.

A sanity hearing at this point lies entirely at the discretion of the warden. Walker said today he had not yet made up his mind about this matter. The warden reported that Mrs. Judd was causing prison matrons much trouble and worry. "Apparently she is just beginning to realize that she may hang April 21," Walker said. "She has been flying into uncontrollable tantrums. She is nervous and excited. At times to control her we have been forced to send others to help the three matrons already guarding her."

Mrs. Judd shot and killed her two former room-mates, Mrs. Leroy and Hedvig Samuelson, the night of October 16, 1931.

A fight over the affections of J. J. Halloran, wealthy lumberman, led to the shooting, the state charged.

Only on the charge of murdering Mrs. Leroy, Mrs. Judd unsuccessfully claimed insanity and self defense.

ASK WRIT TO FORCE ISSUANCE OF EXECUTION

Court decisions rendered during the recent state banking holiday are being attacked in a test case filed yesterday in state supreme court by the Santa Ana law firm of Rutan and Mize.

The case, designated as a friendly test case is a petition for a writ of mandate against County Clerk J. M. Backs instructing him to issue a writ of execution for sale of property under a mortgage foreclosure.

The involved is that of Marie Vidal against Agnes Carroll over foreclosure of a mortgage on a house and lot in Santa Ana. The case was tried during the banking holiday and judgment of foreclosure ordered. In order to bring the case to a test in the supreme court Backs refused to issue a writ of execution directing the sheriff to seize and sell the property.

Backs refused to issue the writ was based on the grounds that the judgment was void, having been rendered during the banking holiday.

Associated with Rutan and Mize in taking the test case before the supreme court is former Chief Justice L. W. Myers of the state supreme court. Filing of the test case is the first attack launched on decisions rendered by courts during the banking holiday and the decision is being eagerly awaited by judges and attorneys in all parts of the state.

Decision in the case taken before the supreme court will not affect judgment in cases heard during the holiday by stipulation. Neither will it be affected by the state moratorium on mortgages. The mortgage moratorium applies only to property on which the owner being foreclosed, lives. Neither party to the case being contested resides on the property.

SURVIVOR OF AKRON MAKES REPORT TODAY

the fog, took departure on course west for Philadelphia, the captain coming.

Since the fog extended over the sea it was decided to cruise inland where the ground could be seen until such time as departure could be taken to arrive at Newport, R. I., the next morning about 07:00 (7 a. m.) about 20 miles to the westward of Lakehurst, the ground became visible and visibility was fairly good in the vicinity of Philadelphia at about 20:10 (10:10 p. m.).

The captain directed the officers of the deck to follow the Delaware river to the Delaware capes and after passing Philadelphia I left the control car and went to the gun room in the after part of the car, which is the officers' smoking room.

At the time I left the control car, six of the eight engines were in use. I had been in the smoking room about 15 or 20 minutes when I felt that the engines had been speeded up and I returned to the control car and found that all engines were running standard speed and that the course had been changed to east.

Lightning Visible
Lightning was visible to the south and the navigator told me that the course would bring us to the coast line at Atlantic City. The captain and I watched the lightning and the captain changed course once or twice to northeast and back to east.

The altitude which had been 2000 feet above sea level was changed to 1600 feet. The ground soon became obscured by fog but we thought we knew quite accurately our track over the ground and occasionally lights, indicating a town, were seen through the fog enabling us to check our position.

The ship was in good flying condition at this time, having slight negative buoyancy when we were satisfactory, the lightning to the south became quite extensive and finally was visible all to the westward. About 10 p. m. in the vicinity of the coast somewhere near Asbury Park, N. J., the fog had risen to our flying altitude and we flew along the top of it, occasionally being submerged in it and at other times being 100 feet above it. The lightning had become quite general and a few minutes after we left the coast line flashes of lightning were all around us and over us.

Thunder was heard quickly after a flash and we knew we were entirely surrounded by thunderstorms. The radio antenna had been hauled in and no more weather information could be obtained nor could messages be sent on account of the static.

Returned to Coast
So far as I know, the ship was not struck by lightning. The east course from the shoreline continued for about one hour and the captain then reversed the course. I know that the navigator had been assuming a southeast wind to keep his reckoning but we returned to the coast line which was seen through the fog much sooner than we expected and he told me he would assume a northeast wind thereafter.

When the coast line was sighted the captain changed the course to 120 degrees true. This was at midnight. For the next few minutes the ship was submerged in the fog most of the time and at what I judge to be about 12:30 a. m. April 4 we struck turbulent atmosphere, which up to this time had been remarkably stable.

The elevator man reported that the ship was falling rapidly and I jumped over to his side of the control car to assist him. When I first saw the altimeter I read about 1100 feet and we were going down rapidly, almost on even keel but with the bow inclined downward. "I asked the captain if I should drop ballast and he directed me to do so. I commenced valving ballast from the service bags but the ship was descending so rapidly that when she reached 800 feet I decided to drop emergency ballast and dropped 1600 pounds from frame 187.

Descent Stops
"Those are the forward emergency bags. The descent stopped at 700 feet and the ship commenced to rise rapidly. I conned the elevator man to reduce the rate of rise and to have good control and approaching the flying altitude of 1600 feet gradually and leveled off there.

To determine the static condition of the ship I observed the elevator controls and found that the ship, to maintain altitude, had an inclination of 3-4 of 1 degree up by the bow, super heat plus three degrees and elevator angle down about three degrees, air speed 58 knots, indicating that the ship was in approximate trim and had 5500 pounds negative buoyancy. This amount of negative buoyancy was not at all unusual and was caused largely by the rain water which had accumulated on the ship. About two minutes later the atmosphere became exceedingly turbulent and I realized that we must be near the storm's center and I caused the signal to be sounded for landing stations in order to have all men available and none in their bunks.

As soon as the landing station signal was sounded, the first lieutenant, Lt. Calnan appeared and since he is responsible for the trim and loading of the ship I told him where I had dropped ballast and told him to stand by the ballast board.

Take Stations
The engineering officer took his station at the engine telegraphs. I stood by the starboard window where I could conn the rudder. The captain was at the port window. These are the usual stations for landing and maneuvering. A very sharp gust struck the ship. It seemed to be much more severe than any I have ever experienced in that it was exerted so suddenly. In other words, whereas an ordinary gust would strike the ship with the same force and take, say, 20 seconds to pass, this gust seemed to exert a maximum force in two or three seconds.

I noted immediately that the lower rudder control rope had carried away and reported it to the captain. I unclutched this rudder control and tried to steer with the upper rudder. About the time this unclutching was completed I noticed that the captain was watching the altimeters and that the ship was reporting that the ship was falling.

My other rudder control broke at this time, and the noise made by the sheaves carrying away in the ship indicated to me that the ship's structure had been damaged somewhere.

By this time the ship had taken an inclination up by the bow of several degrees, and the captain ordered full speed on the engines.

The fall continued, and I heard the report "800 feet."

The angle up by the bow increased and I could feel that we were falling rapidly.

I could no longer steer, with both rudder controls broken, and I hung to the girder along the side window and looked out to see if I could sight the water.

I inquired the altitude, and the reply was 300 feet.

Crash Orders
At the same time I sighted the waves through the window and gave the order "stand by for a crash."

There was no further conversation in the control car after this order.

The engineering officer was trying to use his bell pulls after engine telegraph indicator wires were carried away.

At least one of the engine cars repeated back his signals as I heard, a number of bells indicating this.

We descended at a rate I judged to be about 14 feet per second, but when we hit the water it seemed that we hit much harder than I had expected.

The water surged in my window and submerged me and must have carried me out the port window or port side of the control car.

I came to the surface shortly thereafter and started to swim toward the airship which I could see when the lightning flashed.

The airship, however, was drifting away from me rapidly and at about 500 yards distance I could see the ship entirely on the water, broken in two or three places, submerged about one-third of her diameter with the bow for a length of about 200 feet inclined in the air at an angle of about 30 degrees.

I gave up trying to reach the ship, and looking around, sighted lights of what I took to be a surface vessel and a lighthouse. I saw several men in the water and heard their cries. None was close to me. I swam toward the surface vessel and after about ten minutes found a board about three feet square which I clung to until I was hauled aboard the tanker.

new work by forestry experts, and to be outfitted with clothes. Then they will be dispatched to the work camps in the forests.

There will be about 1500 work camps, with between 100 and 200 men assigned to each. The forest service last night announced the location of the first 38 camps:

George Washington National Forest, Virginia, three; Monongahela National Forest, West Virginia, three; Natural Bridge Forest, Virginia, three; Unaka, Tennessee, two; Pisgah, North Carolina, four; Nantahala, Tennessee, two; Cherokee, Tennessee, two; Choctawhatchee, Florida, two; Osceola, Florida, two; Ouachita, Arkansas, six; Ozark, Arkansas, three; Allegheny, Pennsylvania, three; and one each in undetermined locations in Georgia and South Carolina.

In addition one or two camps will be set up in Alabama Forest, one probably near Moulton. Two or three others will be ready by May 1 in the White Mountain National Forest, New Hampshire, and at least one in the Green Mountain Forest, Vermont.

The new unemployment director is void of the sleek graces that ornament the usual political jobholder. To most people not familiar with the International Association of Machinists, which he has headed for 20 years, his name was an enigma when his appointment was announced.

Ask the commander in chief of the reforestation army where his staff is and he answers:

"I'm the staff."

LOCAL RELIEF ORGANIZATION READY TO OUI

Relief program contemplated through the $50,000 to be received this month from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Chairman Smart pointed out that the Unemployed association has been taking care of more than 740 families in Santa Ana, stressing the value of maintaining the self-respect of members through allowing them work to help support themselves.

He asked Supervisor Jerome if the county would accept a man for work in the relief program if he were vouched for by the Citizens' committee and Unemployed association without the expense of a further investigation. He pointed out that members of the association have been investigated before allowed to become members, and that money might be saved by accepting members without a county investigation.

Supervisor Jerome referred the question to Welfare Director E. V. Curry who said today that he did not believe that would suffice, and that all investigations had to be made by the county.

A resolution was drawn up, which was not adopted, however, which asked the county board of supervisors and the welfare department to employ men from the Unemployed association and to use the organization to secure men and thereby save the costs of conducting separate investigations.

UNEMPLOYED GROUP SEEKS NEW QUARTERS

Faced with the problem of finding new quarters, officials of the Santa Ana Unemployed association today issued an appeal for assistance in finding operating quarters.

At a joint meeting of the board of education and the city council recently, a real estate deal was decided upon which would give the city possession of the old Willard school property at Tenth and Main streets, which has been used by the unemployed, in return for the city hall property at Third and Main streets, with what remains of the city hall building after the earthquake.

In the meantime, officials of the Unemployed association are making preparations to move, in view of the fact that the city plans to use the old building on Main street for a city hall, at least temporarily.

There is some possibility that the Unemployed may be able to secure the old school building on Church street, owned by the board of education.

W. M. Burke, member of the board of education, said the matter has been discussed informally but has never come to the attention of the school board. He said the matter may be taken up at the meeting of the board Monday night.

WILL PERMIT EMPLOYMENT OF MORE MEN

Contrary to first reports, the $50,000 available from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for unemployment relief in Orange county can be used to employ men who are not at present receiving aid from the county welfare department.

Following a conference in Los Angeles yesterday by Welfare Director B. V. Curry, Supervisor W. C. Jerome and J. F. Burke with R.F.C. officials, it was decided that a more liberal interpretation of rules for expenditure of the relief money can be made.

A report to the supervisors Tuesday by Welfare Director Curry indicated that rules forbade employing men who are members of unemployed association or who are receiving aid from any other agency.

Under the new interpretation of the rule, members of unemployed associations can be employed by the county, using the money available which comes from the R. F. C. through state agencies.

The first ruling, which would have barred members of unemployed associations, would have placed a premium on pauperism and would encourage those men who have been helping themselves to give up and declare themselves indigents and eligible for county aid, according to Supervisor Jerome.

The new ruling was received with a feeling of relief by officials and members of the unemployed association in Santa Ana and other localities today.

BEER, WINE TO BE SOLD IN 3 COUNTY CITIES

Sales of alcoholic beer and wine will become legal in three Orange county cities tomorrow. The communities in which the beverages are definitely assured are San Clemente, Seal Beach and Laguna Beach.

The Tustin city council will meet tonight and unless an emergency ordinance is passed, beer and wine will be sold in Tustin Friday, since the city now has no liquor ordinance, having operated under the Wright act.

The San Clemente city council already has adopted an ordinance permitting sales of the beverages and will meet tonight at 8 o'clock to issue permits. Beer and wine become legal at 12:01 a. m., there tomorrow.

Election Scheduled

At a session of the Laguna Beach council last night, it was ruled that any one with a business license may sell the beverages. A special election to decide the issue is planned.

Final readings will be given an ordinance permitting the sale of beer and wine, when Seal Beach city council meets tonight. In Seal Beach, however, sales will be permitted only between the hours of 8 a. m. and 1 a. m.

The Beach city council last night decided to meet again next Monday evening, when arrangements will be made for calling a special election to decide the issue. Newport Beach will hold a special election May 5.

Huntington Beach has repealed all of its dry ordinances but sales will not be permitted until the new ordinance goes into effect in 30 days.

Anaheim council has amended its dry ordinance to permit sales. The measure goes into effect April 14.

Cities in Orange county in which councils have refused to modify anti-liquor laws are Santa Ana, Orange, La Habra, Fullerton and Placentia.

Laguna Votes Soon

LAGUNA BEACH, April 6.—In the face of a loud demonstration by wet citizens, the city council of Laguna Beach last night instructed City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey to prepare the machinery for a special election to decide whether or not alcoholic beer and wine will be permitted. Harvey said it will require about 30 days. The exact date will be set at an adjourned meeting to be held April 11, when the resolution calling for the vote will be adopted.

In the meantime, Harvey ruled that anyone in Laguna Beach holding a business license may sell beer or wine in any manner, without interference, until the election has decided the issue. It also developed at the meeting that there is no law prohibiting intoxication in

EARTHQUAKE EXTRA COPIES AVAILABLE

Announcement was made today by R. M. Conklin, circulation manager of The Register, that additional copies of the extra edition of The Register of March 10, concerning the earthquake now are available at the business office. Many requests for copies of the extra, which according to news dispatches, was the only one issued in Southern California that night, have been received and the supply had been exhausted.

Recently some 500 copies of the extra, which had been sent to Fullerton that night as part of the coverage of the entire county, where distribution was stopped by Fullerton authorities, were returned to the office. This stock already has been greatly reduced, but some copies still are available.

Church Asks Election

The question came before the council when City Clerk George W. Prior read a petition signed by the officers of the Community Presbyterian church asking that the beer question be put to a vote of the people and requesting that emergency legislation be enacted prohibiting sale of the alcoholic beverage in Laguna Beach until the people had decided the question at the polls. Harvey pointed out that no emergency legislation could be put through before the middle of April and that there is no way for the council to prohibit unrestricted sales when alcoholic beer becomes legal on Friday. The attorney said that in handling the ordinance which repealed Laguna Beach's "little Volstead act" last fall, he had overlooked the fact that the repeal also did away with any law against intoxication in Laguna Beach.

Speaking for the church petition, the Rev. Raymond I. Brahams, pastor of the Community Presbyterian church, declared that at the presidential election the people had voted against repeal of the Wright act by a majority of nine. He said he represented a group of citizens with 200 votes.

Harvey R. Richards and John Jehle spoke for the drys and J. H. Smith for the wets.

Spanish Village Club In Program

SAN CLEMENTE, April 6.—Spring flowers, suggestive of Easter, decorated the tables for the San Clemente Woman's club luncheon in the Social clubhouse Tuesday. A program prepared by the entertainment chairman, Mrs. A. T. Smith, was given following the luncheon, as follows: "The Meaning of Easter," Mrs. John D. Lewis; monologue, "The Tired Mother," Mrs. William Leak; experiences of Mrs. L. B. Brown, who was in Long Beach during the quake.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. W. Ed Edwards. In response to an invitation from the Woman's club of Orange, it was voted to enter a basket of flowers at the Flower show to be held in Orange April 6 and 7.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. J. Tucker Murray, of Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. C. S. Carrete, of Claremont; Mrs. Litton Thomas, Mayor Thomas F. Murphy, Robert C. Plume, Judge Fred F. Warner, William T. Hoggland, A. T. Smith, P. W. Smith, Monroe Thurman, L. B. Brown and William Cowger.

Members of Stamp Club Plan Auction

An auction of stamps will be a feature of the meeting of the Orange County Philatelic club at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the home of W. C. Ahlman, 253 North Harwood street, Orange. It was announced today by F. A. Baker, president of the club.

Ahlman, host to the club at the monthly meeting, will provide a brief entertainment program, it was announced.

SUGGEST PLAN TO CUT EXPENSE ON R. F. C. FUND

If 17 per cent of the unemployed relief fund granted Orange county by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for April is allowed for overhead expenses in giving work to unemployed men as provided in the R. F. C. act, a total of $8500 would be used in administrative expenses out of the $50,000 the county is to receive this month.

This fact was brought out at a meeting of the Santa Ana Citizens' Unemployment Emergency committee yesterday afternoon, at which Mayor Paul Witmer, Councilman A. F. LeGaye and Supervisor W. C. Jerome were present.

While Welfare Director B. V. Curry said today that 17 per cent is allowed for overhead, he declared that he did not think quite that much would be needed. A plan was suggested that the local association be used here to eliminate necessity of some overhead expense.

Curry said that investigators would be employed to check the status of men who would be given work in the contemplated relief program and that separate registration offices would be established for registering men desiring work on the public projects which will be started in the relief work.

The program contemplates the

Kite Contest To Be Held Here Friday

Hundreds of kites of all colors and descriptions, large and small, will dot the sky tomorrow afternoon when the annual kite contest is staged at Fremont school, at West Eighth and Artesia streets. It was announced today by Mrs. Edith Ritter, principal of the school.

Kites will take to the air at 2 p. m. tomorrow when the contest is officially started. The kite festival is an annual event of the school, and attracts large numbers of both adults and children.

More than 300 kites will be entered in the contest, it is announced, and many prizes will be awarded to winners of the various events.

Immediate employment of 2500 men in the county, 700 of which are to be from Santa Ana. The men will be given one week's work at the rate of $3.50 a day, giving them $15 for the month, according to present plans.

No direct allocations can be made to cities, according to Superintendent Jerome, because the money must be spent through the welfare department. Each case must be investigated, he declared at the meeting yesterday.

No money can be spent on any project any government body has already started or planned and the money must be spent on public improvement projects, it is said.

FOREIGN WAR VETS BACK IN OLD QUARTERS

Ernest L. Kellogg Post No. 1555, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Ladies' Auxiliary will resume their regular schedule of meetings tomorrow night in K. of P. hall, Fifth and Broadway.

This building has been carefully inspected by a corps of engineers and pronounced perfectly safe, according to information received at the city engineer's office, and the fullest attendance is urged by Commander Neal E. Meister and Auxiliary President Minnie E. Beaser. Arrangements are to be completed for the regular social night, Friday, April 21, when it is planned to hold a dinner, dance and card party.

A discussion of the effects of the passage of the economy bill upon members of the post who have been beneficiaries under the acts of congress which this legislation repeals will be a feature of the meeting.

Senior Vice Commander Charles E. Camm, chairman of the Buddy Poppy committee, will announce members of the committee who are to assist him in the campaign this year.

QUESTION OF WARRANT MAY DETERMINE SUIT

Whether or not Ernest E. Vinsonhaler, formerly of Orange, wins his suit for $10,000 against Chief of Police R. F. Richards, also of Orange, depends upon whether or not the warrant upon which he was arrested last November was irregular.

Vinsonhaler was taken to the city hall at Orange on November 4, last, accused of indecent exposure and held for several hours before Richards secured a warrant, according to his suit. Justice of the Peace Swayze was not available and Richards, it is alleged, took Vinsonhaler before Police Judge John G. Mitchell who issued the complaint.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames yesterday continued the case until Friday at 1:30 p. m. for argument on the regularity of the warrant. In postponing the case Judge Ames informed District Attorney S. B. Kaufman and City Attorney H. L. Deering, of Orange, representing Richards, and Attorney Leonard Evans, for Vinsonhaler, that he would listen to arguments only on the one point.

The question of regularity of the warrant was brought up by the court following a ruling on nonsuit on one cause of action in the complaint charging Richards with malicious prosecution. Following declaration of nonsuit in regard to the malicious prosecution charge the court ruled that all testimony as to what occurred after Vinsonhaler was arrested should be stricken from the record.

In questioning the regularity of the warrant the court said that when the evidence was ordered stricken from the records the warrant had not been in evidence. Unless attorneys for Richards can prove sufficiency of the warrant, the court declared the order would be vacated and the testimony replaced in the records.

Richards, in his defense, contended that Vinsonhaler was not placed under arrest until after the warrant had been issued. Prior to that time, he said Vinsonhaler had "voluntarily" accompanied him to the city hall and before Police Judge Mitchell.

Laguna's Annual Flower Show Held Friday, Saturday

The Fifth Annual Flower show of the Laguna Beach Garden club will be held Friday and Saturday at the Hotel Laguna.

A new feature will be a home and garden section, including the exhibition of miniature houses that have been landscaped.

Exhibits will not be received after 10:30 a. m. Friday morning. The judging will be done at 11 o'clock and the show will open formally at 2:30 p. m. It will be open afternoons and evening.

Mrs. W. V. Mathews, president of the club, will preside at a luncheon to be held Friday noon in honor of the judges. Miss Katherine Bradshaw and Capt. Dudley Corbett and Nelson Partridge Jr., editor of California Arts and Architecture.

The newly formed South Coast orchestra, conducted by Bert Hollom, will play evenings. This organization has 20 artists from many Orange county coast towns.

SHOW PROGRESS IN CAMPAIGN AGAINST PLAGUE

Listing the accomplishments of the past year and outlining the purpose and program, the annual report of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Ltd., was made public today by Annette A. Meagher, executive secretary.

At the same time the annual meeting of the association was announced for next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Children's Health camp, near Irvine park, by R. W. Balch of Anaheim, president.

Through the efforts of the executive office, $284.36 was collected for the operation of the Children's Health Camp, and the Christmas Seal sale brought in $806.12, or a grand total of $17,344.48.

The camp represents the prevention program of the association, operated for children who are physically sub-standard or were in contact with tuberculosis.

The chief objective of the association is popular instruction in personal and community health. This is accomplished by means of health education, publicity, diagnostic chest clinics, prevention, cooperation and coordination with community agencies.

CITRUS PRUNING, TO BE DEMONSTRATED

Three field demonstrations have been arranged for tomorrow and Saturday to show methods of pruning various aged orange trees.

The series has been arranged by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, under the auspices of the agricultural extension service and citrus department of the Farm Bureau.

The schedule of demonstrations has been arranged as follows: Friday, 10 a. m.—Orange—Place of E. E. Campbell, Fairhaven avenue, one-fourth mile west of Tustin avenue.

Friday, 2 p. m.—Placentia—Place of Ralph McFadden, Placentia avenue, one mile north of Chapman avenue.

Saturday, 9:30 a. m.—Katella—Place of Raymond Terry, corner of Katella avenue and Palm street, South of Anaheim and northeast of Garden Grove.

All growers are invited to attend.

PEST CONTROL IN ORCHARDS IS TOPIC

The schedule of daily radio talks given on agricultural and allied subjects, under the auspices of the Agricultural Extension service and station KFI, was announced today by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg for the week beginning April 10. The talks are presented at noon each day, as follows:

April 10, "Spring Pest Control in the Walnut Orchard," M. H. Kimball, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county; April 11, "Replanting and Replacing Citrus Trees in the Orchard," A. G. Salter, assistant farm advisor, Los Angeles county; April 12, "A Few Hints for Hog Producers," by the Agricultural Extension service;

April 13, "A Talk on Water Conservation," Judge Harold Ide Cruzan, vice-president, Los Angeles Conservation association;

April 14, "Potato Growing in San Diego county," R. R. McLean, agricultural commissioner, San Diego county; April 15, "Tank Trucks for Rural Fire Fighting," Woodbridge Metcalf, extension forester, University of California.

Music Week Program Set For May 2

Santa Ana Musical Arts club has been selected to arrange for the Music Week program to be given in the high school auditorium Tuesday night, May 2, at 7:30 o'clock, and a committee appointed by the club president, Ollinae Enlow Matthews, already is arranging for the program to be presented.

Clarence Gustlin, chairman, has the assistance of Holly Lash Visel, Cecile Fross Willis, Ruth Armstrong and Carolyn Haughton in arranging for the evening, and contributing artists will be drawn from Musical Arts club membership and allied artistic groups. Long Beach Musical Arts club, parent organization of the local club, will cooperate, according to present indication, and send some unusually fine guest artists.

Plans are under way to present the program in a unique manner that will be a surprise to the audience, and at the same time add to the entertainment features.

MONEY, BANKING SUBJECTS FOR FORUM SERIES

The Santa Ana Forum will begin a course of study and lectures on the subject of money and banking on Monday evening April 10, in the Willard Junior High school auditorium, it was announced today.

The object of the course is the study of the history and theory of money and its relation to business, commerce and industry, inflation, deflation, rise and fall of prices and international payments.

The history and theory of banking in the United States and foreign countries; commercial, savings and investment banks and their strength and weaknesses; the credit system in all its ramifications; proposed reforms of the money banking and credit systems of the United States for the protection of depositors and security buyers, will be considered.

The course will be free and will be in charge of W. M. Burke, who has been a professor of economics and finance at various colleges and universities. He will be assisted by Homer Cheney, formerly of the faculty of Pomona college in the department of economics and now connected with the First National bank, and by Wilfred Taylor, a graduate of Stanford university specializing in economics and finance, now connected with the Commercial National bank.

HOLLYWOOD Y DAY DATE SET FOR APRIL 15

The annual "Y" day in Hollywood, one of the events of the year for Southern California Y. M. C. A. boys, has been set for Saturday, April 15. It was announced today by D. H. Tibbals, Santa Ana association boys' secretary. A great program has been planned by the Hollywood Y. M. C. A. and preparations are being made to welcome a throng of boys and their leaders.

The program starts at 9 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, the 15th, when the boys are to assemble at the Hollywood High school athletic field. At 9:45, they will be at Warner Brothers Hollywood theater, where they will be entertained with a premier showing of "Elmer the Great" with Joe E. Brown as Elmer. It is promised that several popular movie stars will be present. The Hollywood Rotary club quartet will sing, and a short service of worship will be conducted, with Ivan Edwards, minister of music at the Hollywood Congregational church, as soloist. Other entertaining and inspirational features will be presented during the mass meeting at the theater.

At noon, the crowd will return to the high school athletic field for a box lunch and further program.

At 2:30, the boys will attend the Horse Tournament of the Los Angeles Breakfast club, where Tom Mix and his 19 famous horses will be featured, along with "Hottentot," the bucking horse, the original "Man O' War," and other famous horses. They will adjourn at 4:30.

Reservations may be made at the local Y. M. C. A. by boys who wish to attend. The cost is only 75 cents per boy for the whole day's program, including the lunch, but not including transportation.

BREAKFASTERS PUT ON OWN PROGRAM OF ENTERTAINMENT

A diversified program of entertainment, presented by members of the club, featured the weekly meeting of the Orange County

Breakfast club this morning at the Green Cat cafe.

Art Cannon was program chairman and accompanied singers at the piano. Jerry Hall acted as master of ceremonies, introducing the performing artists.

Earl Morrow sang "Sweet Adeline," and Isadore Fields sang two selections, one in Russian, which were warmly received. Rod Bacon sang a solo, accompanying himself at the piano.

Jess Elliott read a humorous address on beer, which was prepared by "Skinny" Skirvin, who was unable to attend the meeting because of illness. Jerry Hall sang a group of parodies, directed at various members of the club.

Dean Benton of Laguna Beach was guest-artist at the meeting, singing two selections, accompanied at the piano by Art Cannon.

Tribute to the memory of Ed French, member of the Breakfast club who died recently, was paid by members of the club, who stood while the Rev. Harry E. Owings gave a brief memorial address.

President Claude McDowell urged members to boost the attendance at the club.

Importance Of Variety In Balanced Diet Is Stressed

SUGGESTIONS ON MINERALS, VITAMINS GIVEN

It is the responsibility of the home-maker, now more than ever, to acquaint herself with what the markets have provided for her. Knowledge of both food values and human needs coupled with ingenuity and much thought will make it possible to combine economy with nourishment. Seasonable foods will always be found best and cheapest. Clever seasoning often makes it possible to use the same foods many times in succession without danger of monotony. Baked carrots for luncheon and grated raw carrots in the dinner salad have no suggestion of sameness, but healthful and economical food is supplied for two meals. A definite saving is effected by buying food in quantity.

Milk Holds First Place

Milk is the food which stands first on the list of foods essential to health. When supplied in adequate amounts the diet may be very low in meat without sacrificing anything imperative to good nutrition.

Food which give rich yields of more than one food element are a decided economy. For instance, spinach is a rich source of iron and also supplies vitamins in abundance. Milk is the cheapest source of calcium and a fairly economical source of fuel, protein and phosphorus. Eggs are not only a source of protein but are rich in calcium, phosphorus and iron as well as three valuable vitamins, A, B and D.

Canned Foods Economical

When eggs are cheap they make an excellent meat substitute. Cheese also can be used in place of meat. The combination of dried beans and milk is an adequate source of protein as beefsteak and costs about one-fourth as much. And as for minerals and vitamins, the milk and beans are more efficient than the steak.

If fresh fruits and vegetables are of inferior quality, involving much waste, canned ones can be used with economy and equal satisfaction. Wilty and imperfect fresh products are of less food value than those canned in perfect freshness and maturity.

CUB SCOUT TROOP ORGANIZED HERE

The first and only cub Boy Scout troop in Santa Ana has been organized by Lester Boyle, scoutmaster of the United Presbyterian church troop. It was announced today by Harrison E. White, Orange county Boy Scout executive. Any boys in Santa Ana from nine to 12 years of age are eligible for membership in the new cub troop. Any parents who are interested are asked to send their boys to the church Monday night at 7 o'clock, when the second meeting of the troop will be held. The troops is limited, however, to 24 boys.

COOKING CLASS STOVES PROVE THEIR UTILITY

Cooking school presentation of the new models of Windsor stoves, sold in Santa Ana by Montgomery Ward and company has proven so successful, that J. E. Madden, local manager of the big store has had to send in orders for more stoves, it was learned today.

Both the handsome models which are seen on the stage of the theater during the cooking school classes have been sold, and there has been a constant stream of women at the Montgomery Ward and company store at Second and Broadway to inspect the other models on display there and to ask questions. Several stoves have been sold since the cooking school opened yesterday morning, Madden said.

"We have been more than pleased with the manner in which Santa Ana housewives have taken to the new Windsor stove models. It has been more than we expected," Madden said today. The new stoves can be seen in kitchen equipment and we knew their striking beauty would appeal to all housewives who saw them in use. This has been proven now by the number of sales and inquiries that have been made at the store," he said.

The new stove can be seen in operation at the West Coast theater tomorrow for the last time, as that is the closing day of the cooking school.

Cooking on the new models is merely a matter of reading. Complete instructions for cooking of all kinds of foods come in a glass enclosed case which sits on top of the stove. By merely pushing a button the fire is lit; another button regulates the fire and sets a clock which automatically cooks the food at a certain temperature for an allotted time and then turns the fire off.

Many inquiries also are being made about the new model Trukold electric refrigerator which is another piece of kitchen equipment handled by Montgomery Ward and company exclusively here. A handsome model of it is on the stage at the theater. The Ward kitchen cabinet, another beautiful piece of kitchen furniture is probably the most needed piece of equipment every housewife wants, aside from the stoves. Its capacity for holding all kinds of groceries, canned goods and pans is astonishing. It, too, can be seen at the theater, on the stage.

TRY THIS QUICK CAKE FOR SCHOOL DAY LUNCHES!

It's sure to be a hit with CALUMET'S DOUBLE-ACTION!

CALUMET QUICK CAKE—you can dash it off in a jiffy. And if you use Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder—you'll get a perfect gem of a cake.

Why this unusual perfection—when you use Calumet? Here's why:—Calumet acts twice. The first action takes place in the mixing bowl. Then, in the oven, the second action continues the leavening, raising the batter high and light. Cakes, biscuits, quick breads—all your baking turns out beautifully!

LOOK! YOU SAVE, TOO!—The standard Calumet proportion is only one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour—a splendid economy made possible by the efficiency of Calumet's Double-Action.

And when you see the transformation Calumet's Double-Action causes in your baking—you'll know it's the real bargain baking powder. Get Calumet at your grocer's today. Calumet is a product of General Foods.

CALUMET QUICK CAKE

(2 egg whites)
2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 egg whites, unbeaten
Soft butter or other shortening as needed
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, sugar, salt, and stir together three times. To egg whites in cup, add enough shortening to half fill cup; add enough milk to completely fill it. Turn into flour, add vanilla, and beat vigorously 2 minutes. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 minutes, or in greased cup cake pans in hot oven (400° F.) 20 minutes. When cool, frost with chocolate frosting or any other favorite frosting. (All measurements are level.)

GET PROOF! See Calumet act twice!

These pictures illustrate the famous Calumet Double-Action Test. You'll find full directions for making this easy test inside every Calumet can. Try it! See for yourself how Calumet acts twice to make your baking better.

JOIN GOODNESS AND ECONOMY IN WHOLE HAM

By SISTER MARY

It is a decided economy to buy a whole ham if you are sure you can use it all up. The choice middle cuts always are high when bought separately, but if the whole ham is purchased they are not considered. Butt-end, hock end and center are regarded as a whole and priced at so much a pound.

There are numberless ways of cooking smoked ham, but I believe that the most meals can be served with the least danger of the family becoming tired of the meat if both the ends are boiled and then worked up into interesting dishes. The center can be cut in slices for broiling. After the middle slices are used, the ends are put together and securely tied and treated as a whole ham. Plan how the entire ham is to be used and then there will be no waste.

Soaking is Good Rule Although it is not absolutely necessary to soak all hams before boiling or baking, I have found it advisable to do so even though I am sure of my brand and the saltiness of the ham I've bought. An over night bath in clear, fresh water cannot hurt any ham and will restore the moisture lost through curing. If a ham has been over-salted, soaking is imperative to make it tender as well as palatable.

There are two precautions to keep in mind when cooking ham. Never cook a highly salted piece of meat rapidly and in the case of broiling or sauteing, do not depend on it to furnish its own fat entirely. Always begin to cook ham at a low temperature and increase heat gradually.

Start in Cold Water Put ham on to boil in cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point and simmer gently until tender. The time will vary, but it will take five or six hours for a 12-pound ham. It can be boiled in cider, or seasonings can be added to the water to give it a piquant flavor. Bay leaves, whole cloves, peppercorns, onions and carrots are the seasonings generally liked.

If the ham is to be used sliced cold, let it cool in the water in which it was cooked. Then remove and trim as necessary. Plain boiled ham can be used in innumerable made dishes and is excellent to have in the ice-box for an emergency.

When the whole joint is to be baked it should be boiled first and then baked only long enough to brown the outside and season it.

Suggestions Given For Making Nourishing Dishes

USE CORNMEAL IN PREPARING UNUSUAL SOUP

sions of a soup is to whet the appetite.

Cornmeal Soup

Three tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup minced onion, 1-2 cup shredded green pepper, 1 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 2 cups veal or chicken stock, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons cornmeal, 1-2 cup grated cheese. Melt butter in soup kettle. Stir and cook until onion is a golden straw color. Add seasoning, stock and milk. Add cornmeal and stir hard until mixture boils. Stir flour to a smooth paste with a little cold milk, adding hot milk slowly until mixture pours readily. Add to the soup, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and cook fifteen minutes. When ready to serve, sprinkle grated cheese over top of each serving.

Potato and Cheese Soup

This is another nourishing soup that is very economical. Three medium sized potatoes, 1 cup grated cheese, 4 cups milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon white pepper, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1 teaspoon tabasco sauce, 2 tablespoons minced parsley. Steam or boil potatoes in the "jacket." Peel and put through ricer. Melt butter and stir in flour. When bubbling add milk slowly, stirring constantly, and bring to the boiling point. Add prepared potatoes, seasoning and cheese and boil one minute. Remove at once from the fire, add parsley and serve.

Fresh bacon fat can be used in place of butter in either of the soups.

Brea O. E. S. In Program May 15

BREA, April 6.—At the meeting of Brea chapter of Eastern Star it was decided to postpone observance of the fifth birthday anniversary of the chapter, the program having been planned for the evening of April 17. Plans are being made, however, for the program which the chapter will present on the evening of May 15, Orange county night, when all the chapters in the county will send members to Brea. Mrs. Maude Sayles, associate matron, is in charge of all arrangements.

Refreshments of home-made cake, ice cream and coffee were served, with Mrs. Sayles and Mrs. Anna Woodward in charge. Easter decorations were used in the lodge room and in the dining room, the colors of purple and white being worked out in bridal wreath, iris and statice.

Breakfast

1 whole medium-sized grapefruit without sugar.
2 strips of crisp bacon
2 thin slices bran bread toast
1 teaspoonful butter or jam, for toast
1 cup coffee with 1-4 cup hot skim milk, no sugar for coffee.
Calory total 360.

Have You a Discriminating Palate?

Your answer will be prompted by the effect the above breakfast menu has on you: if you read it and weep—for hunger—and disgust at so little food you belong "below the salt." If it appeals to you, you must, perforce, belong to the class that eats food for its flavor and appeal to the eye, rather than something to fill up space in a demanding stomach.

Take time to eat; if you have but ten minutes eat just what you can pleasantly put into those ten minutes, noting the tangy bitterish flavor of your grapefruit, the crisp nut-like flavor of the toast and the salty tang of the crisp bacon. By putting your mind on flavor, you, of necessity, chew the food to the proper stage, killing three birds with one stone—

Aid digestion by proper mastication.

Enjoy to the limit the subtle flavor of nicely cooked food.

And by the above two "isms," cut down the food intake, thus controlling weight. And this is the most important of all.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Hot Fruit Custard

Juice of 4 oranges and 2 lemons
1 scant cup sugar
2 cups water
5 eggs
1 rounded tablespoonful cornstarch.

Bring water to a boil in a double boiler. To the fruit juices add the sugar, cornstarch, all the egg yolks and two of the whites. Beat to a thick cream, stir into boiling water, and keep stirring until cooked to a thin custard.

A few minutes before dessert is to be served beat the remaining egg whites to a stiff froth, pour the hot custard over them and whip well to mix.

Serve at once, piled in sherbet glasses, the custard topped with chilled whipped cream.

Any preferred kind of fruit juice may be used; canned raspberry juice for instance. Or, you might make it with cooking wine and have the real Italian wine custard, called Zabaglione.

The recipe serves seven, the calory total is approximately 1435, but don't forget to add an extra 100 calories for each tablespoonful (heaping) of whipped cream.

This is a dessert the underweight would find very good for that condition.

Friday: Devilled Vegetable Plate, an agreeable change for the weary watery plate, ordinarily called "vegetable plate."

ANN MEREDITH

POINTS DANGER OF FAILING TO FOLLOW RECIPE

"Don't waste time memorizing recipes. Time is too valuable. If you wish to memorize something, make it a verse from Tennyson or a paragraph from O. O. McIntyre. At least, that will give you something worth while to think about."

Such is the paradoxical, if not startling, statement of Miss Margaret Coates of the Safeway Stores Homemakers' Bureau, who is in charge of the Register Cooking school, which closes tomorrow.

The famous home economist hastened to explain her announcement.

"It is far more sensible," she said, "to read your recipe directly from the cook book as you prepare the dish. Then you are sure to be accurate. What I mean is if you misquote an author there is no great harm done, but misquote a recipe, and what becomes of your meal?"

GENEVA MILLER IS SORORITY HOSTESS

LA HABRA, April 6.—Geneva Miller entertained members of the Beta Chi sorority with a pre-Easter bridge party Tuesday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Miller, on West Central avenue. The home was appointed in Carolina jasmine. Three tables were in play. First prize, a Chinese table centerpiece, was won by Dorothy Hadley of Whittier, and the consolation prize by Margaret Crooke of Fullerton. The grand prize in a series of bridge games was won by Geneva Miller and the low prize by Dorothy Hadley. Miss Miller received a piece of silver.

Miss Hadley extended an invitation to the sorority members to her wedding on the evening of April 14 at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, when she will become the bride of Lester R. Pickup, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pickup of Whittier.

The hostess served dessert and coffee with candied Easter chicks and bunnies to further the monthly decorative theme. Margaret Crooke and Eunice Parsons of Fullerton were guests. Other members present were Ethel Sanford, Irene Burgess and Norma and Thelma Wachtel, of Whittier; Martha Iverson and Marguerite Williams of La Habra, and Julia Jewett and Winnie Pearson of Fullerton.

SAYS AVERAGE MAN EATS 30 PIES ANNUALLY

The average man in the United States eats at least 150 pieces of pie, or 30 pies, each year, statisticians tell us. With pies forming an important part of so many meals, housewives are bound to welcome any improvement in ways of making them.

Miss Margaret Coates, who is conducting the three-day session of the Safeway Stores Cooking School, which opened yesterday under the auspices of the Homemakers' Bureau of Safeway Stores, Inc., has given special attention to the making of flaky, crunchy pie crusts.

For this purpose, absolute uniformity in shortening is a prime requisite, she finds, and an all-round product suitable for use in making biscuits, pies, cakes and fried foods is essential to give the housewife the best possible results with the least expenditure of effort and time. Miss Coates uses Formay, the newly perfected shortening made by Swift & Company. She is demonstrating it during the cooking school sessions here, which will close tomorrow.

We all cry—
for A-Y!

When the youngsters come trooping home, be sure there's a loaf or two of delicate, tender A-Y (American Youth) bread ready for those ravenous after-school appetites. Every taste test given A-Y by youngsters and oldsters, alike, proves all the claims we make for this superior bread. It is the product of skilled bakers who strive for "home-made" quality by careful selection of ingredients used:

High grade spring and winter wheat flour, finest grade sugar and table salt, fresh compressed yeast, best quality powdered milk, vegetable shortening.

See A-Y Bread demonstrated at the Safeway Stores Cooking School. It has merited the Homemakers' Bureau Seal of Approval through high-scoring tests (ingredients and texture.)

Habit Of Eating Raw Vegetables Recommended

SAID SPECIALLY RECOMMENDED FOR CHILDREN

The habit of eating raw fruits and vegetables is an excellent one for the homemaker to establish in her family. Children especially should be encouraged in this, for aside from the benefits received in general health, this type of food helps to develop the teeth.

There are certain foods which are admirably suited for use in their natural state, but one precaution must be kept in mind—they must be very carefully and thoroughly washed. The widespread use of commercial fertilizers and sprays for both fruits and vegetables makes thorough washing of utmost importance.

Starchy Foods Need Cooking

Practically all the fruits, all true nuts and many of the vegetables may be eaten uncooked. Lettuce, celery, radishes, onions, cabbage, tomatoes, carrots, cucumbers, sweet peppers, the endives, cress and romaine contain nothing particularly disturbing to digestion when eaten raw. The so-called "starchy" vegetables require cooking to make them more palatable and quickly digested.

Through cooking, vegetables suffer mineral losses in varying amounts. Cabbage has been found to be a heavy loser in iron. Onions also are heavy losers in mineral constituents. Vitamin C, that substance so effective in preventing scurvy and so necessary for health and growth, is made less potent when cooked, and careless cooking almost destroys it. So, why spend time and effort cooking these vegetables when they can give their full value uncooked?

Mineral Salts Beneficial

Although the raw fruits and vegetables have little value as sources of energy, they contain certain mineral salts which are quite effective in the process of elimination.

Grated raw vegetables make splendid salads and sandwiches for children. At this season of the year raw carrots, new turnips and beets are deliciously tender and sweet and make an inviting and colorful salad.

Very finely minced raw vegetables are desirable even for small children and as children grow older, they should have at least one raw vegetable every day.

All the fruits and vegetables which can be eaten raw play an important part in efficient nutrition and should be used regularly. Sometimes their cost seems high, but usually a trip to the market makes it possible to find bargains.

POINTERS FOR USE OF CANNED FOODS GIVEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

For many of us, the main source of our vegetable supply lies in the canned variety. Of course fresh green vegetables are coming into the market, but they are apt to be too expensive for regular use by the average family.

Vegetables are such an important factor in maintaining the family health that they must be supplied. Mineral salts, roughage, vitamins—these are essential in keeping the blood pure and the complexion clear, in stimulating the appetite and promoting growth.

In many respects, the nutritive value of canned vegetables equals that of fresh ones. Unfortunately, lack of proper care and methods of preparing often make them sadly lacking in flavor and unattractive in appearance.

It is only by careful seasoning and treatment that canned vegetables can be given their utmost

BUYING SUPPLIES

Miss Margaret Coates, home economist in charge of the Register-Safeway cooking school at the Fox West Coast theater, was caught yesterday at the Piggly-Wiggly store on West Fourth street, as she was buying supplies for the final day of the cooking school, to be held tomorrow.

value. Consequently, certain definite rules must be followed.

Aerate Canned Foods

One of the first and most important rules is that canned foods should be properly aerated. Practically all the air was expelled from the can during the canning process. This naturally results in a "flat" taste not uncommon to canned goods. As soon as a can of vegetables is opened, it should be turned into a shallow bowl and allowed to stand uncovered for 10 to 15 minutes. In this way the vegetables come in contact with the air and regain what they lost during the canning.

The second rule is that vegetables should be reheated in the water in which they were canned. This water contains valuable nutrition and flavor and if the vegetables are drained before reheating, both of these properties are lost. An excellent plan in the case of vegetables of delicate flavor is to heat them in a shallow sauce pan, keeping the pan uncovered.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed rhubarb with raisins, cereal, cream, broiled cottage ham, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Ragout of mixed vegetables, roasted cheese sandwiches, canned cherries, coconut, cookies, milk, tea.

DINNER: Planked fish steaks, potato marbles in parsley butter, creamed green beans (canned), tomato jelly salad, canned strawberry batter pudding, milk, coffee.

And allowing the water to evaporate completely. In this way the flavor and nutritive value are retained.

Seasoning Important

Always season vegetables well and do not depend solely on salt and pepper and butter. Lemon juice, vinegar, and tomato juice improve the flavor of such vegetables as spinach, beets and green beans. Corn and succotash are given zest by the addition of red and green sweet peppers. Grated cheese may be added to the white sauce for creamed and scalloped vegetables. Onion, celery and horseradish, parsley, chives and mint are vegetable flavoring possibilities that are well worth keeping in mind.

Butter and bacon fat add flavor to vegetables that probably no amount of other condiments can give. A more pronounced flavor is obtained if the butter is melted and slightly browned before the hot vegetable is added.

Luncheon Held In Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—An attractive orchid and gold color scheme was worked out in the table appointments when Mrs. Emmett Smith entertained a group of friends with a 1 o'clock luncheon. An attractive bouquet of sweet peas and daffodils formed the centerpiece with tall yellow tapers on either side. Individual corsages were at each place.

The guests enjoyed an afternoon of needlework and games in the lovely garden at the rear of the home. A prize in the guessing contest was awarded to Mrs. S. R. Pitt.

Sharing Mrs. Smith's hospitality were Mesdames Earl Morrill of Santa Ana; E. W. Edwards, Ray Johnson, Charles Lake, W. A. Wheeler, S. R. Pitt, Wayne Holt, Andrew Smiley, Wesley Lamb, L. W. Schauer, C. G. Crosby, Irvine German and Charles Ver Jones.

STILES Teams Conceded Chance In County Meet

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

DID YOU KNOW THAT
The camp of the Washington Senators is all heated up over Johnny Burrows... an 18-year-old who packs all of 190 pounds on 5 feet 3 inches of frame... he's fresh out of Phoenix, Ariz., high school... besides being a southpaw pitcher he's double-jointed... and never has seen a major league ball game... he isn't likely to see one this year, either, being optioned to Chattanooga... but the jump from high school to Class A is a long hop... Johnny has a long hop on his last one, though, and is figured as big league stuff next year sure... and can be unbuttoned your vest with a hook?... are you asking me?

ADD TO WAR'S HORRORS
Day by day the fires of tennis warfare are being fed with more fuel. Ellsworth Vines started it by saying he would not compete in the National Open tennis championship, it being beneath the dignity of an amateur, or something like that.

Big Bill Tilden replied by openly declaring Vines was afraid to meet the professionals. Vines reiterated that he could name three amateurs who could beat Tilden in special competition.

New Vinnie Richards, former indoor champion, announces he believes Tilden, though 41, is capable of defeating the 21-year-old Vines at any time in a special match.

The whole thing would be one wonderful ballyhoo for a Tilden-Vines match that would pack them in—If Vines would play.

VINES' INSTABILITY
Not everybody is quite sure of Vines' ability. Tilden had to win four championships before he was popularly accepted as a dependable champion. While Vines has won the National Singles twice, he also has been guilty of some terrible tennis.

Tilden used to loaf a lot when he going was unimportant, but he could turn on the power at will and blast his opponent right into the clubhouse. Flashes of this same sort of genius have been shown by Vines—but there have been too many occasions when he turned on the steam and the power wasn't there. Few champions have suffered as many defeats as Vines since he won the title in 1931.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT
It seems to me amateurism's aloofness from contact with professionals has hurt tennis. The golfers of both classes have mingled with mutual advantage.

Wouldn't Vines make a better impression in behalf of amateur tennis by meeting the professionals and establishing, if any, their inferiority?

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Paul Waner thinks there never will be another .400 hitter in the major leagues... unless they need the ball again... pitching is getting better every year... kids breaking in now are using their heads as well as their arms... examples Waner cites are Warneke of the Cubs, Brown of the Pirates... Paul changes his batting style periodically to keep the pitchers fooled... last year he changed his stance, switching his feet to give him more leverage... and smacked out 62 doubles (a new league record), 16 triples and seven home runs.

BOWLING
COLUMBUS, O., April 6.—(INS)—King-pin of the singles division, Earl Hewitt of Erie, Pa., was the latest idol of the American Bowling Congress here today.

Hewitt crashed to the top of the individual event yesterday with 724 points, rolled up in games of 207, 259 and 258. He replaced Rudy Klep of Milwaukee who had held the top spot with 722.

Hewitt also squeezed into sixth place of the all-events division with an aggregate total of 1923.

On other change was chalked up in the "Big Ten" the tournament and it also was the work of an Erie, Pa., keeper. Totalling 618 in the team event, 670 in the doubles and 685 in the singles, Charley Johnson snagged fourth place in the all-events.

ANAHEIM HOST TO SCHOOLS OF ORANGE LEAGUE

The beer-selling establishments of Orange county will not be as wide open tomorrow as the six annual Orange league track and field championships at Anaheim.

Eight high school teams will be entered in the annual meet, and experts conceded the point that no less than six of them have a chance to win the major or Class A division title.

Brea-Olinda, which qualified 13 men at Tuesday's preliminaries, and Huntington Beach, which placed 12, are only slight favorites over Orange, Garden Grove, Anaheim and Tustin. Newport Harbor and San Juan Capistrano are not considered contenders, although the same situation existed a year ago when Coach Ralph Reed piloted his Harbor Sailors to an unexpected victory over the same field.

At least five conference records will be in danger, according to a survey of the situation.

Ruby Holeman, Orange's fine miler, seems to have a good chance of beating "Chuck" Malbon's mark in the mile, Holeman having run 4:45 this season. Tustin's Parr has consistently beaten Alvin Koehn's record in the broad jump, Wilson second of the same school will threaten Furuta's mark of 3.9 in the high jump. Brea's husky "Rusty" Ledbetter menaces the aging shot put standard, and anyone of three or four vaulters will be flirting with Moody's mark of 11.3-1.2.

The meet begins at 3 o'clock. The records:

CLEANSING

A confidential housecleaning of bank examiners is being quietly conducted.

At least one so far has been asked to find another job. He is the man who showed flagrant favoritism in permitting a group of large banks in an eastern industrial section to open while he kept their competitors closed. In a confidential investigation the authorities have found that not more than four of the ten banks in the group should have been given such preferred treatment.

There seems to be no use in raising a fuss about now as the matter probably will not be made public.

Other charges of favoritism reach up to the controller's office. Few are clear cut. Many can be traced directly to confusion.

Those in charge have reached the conclusion that the best thing to do now is to get a new lot of stable boys. There will be an exodus of old ones from the treasury shortly.

RAILS

A hectic time was had by all backstage in the framing of the Railroad Bill.

After the details got out Mr. Roosevelt was required to change it every 15 minutes to meet objections. The rail lobbyists ran around until they were dizzy trying to keep up with it. Finally they gave up, agreeing they would believe nothing until they saw the actual final wording of the bill.

The inner dispute centered around how far federal control should go. The rail chiefs thought it should go far enough to bolster bonds but not far enough for actual federal operation. Labor wanted it to go all the way or not at all.

It was Mr. Roosevelt's first test in pacifying the bickering elements which engulfed Mr. Hoover.

The official whisper on federal dictators will hasten to put the dictator will hasten to put the twenty billion of railroad valuations through a wringer. About six billion of water is supposed to come out.

Some of the president's advisers think they could squeeze more, but that will be enough.

Rail men trooped into the White House recently with their own sweet scheme of federal aid. They had it all written out and handed it to Mr. Roosevelt. He scanned it, scowled and asked:

"Where's the punch in this?" They looked at each other. The punch? The punch? What does he mean the punch? A few meaningless, embarrassed answers were

PROGRAM

The ghost writing on President Roosevelt's new book, "Looking Forward," was done by Earle Looker. He is a well-known New England writer, closely associated with Mr. Roosevelt for some years.

Very little ghosting had to be done on the opus. The basis was furnished by texts of Mr. Roosevelt's speeches during the campaign. Introductory paragraphs were clipped off and they were woven coherently into a complete story.

As usual Mr. Roosevelt personally supplied what he calls "the punch."

DUEL
The Huey Long-Carter Glass feud has developed to the point where pistols for two will be next in order. Each day the senatorial cloakroom hears what will happen if either one goes a step further.

It is related that Senator Glass on the slightest provocation will arise soon on the floor of the senate as a question of personal privilege. He will then name the state he had in mind when he said that there is a certain state "reeking with banking corruption" and other things.

It is said also that Senator Long is prepared on even the minutest provocation to take the floor and demand that Glass name the state.

As a matter of fact probably no one will take the floor and nothing will be named.

DEFERRED
Ten times a bridesmaid and never a bride is the deplorable experience of Swager Shirley. He has been mentioned for more big jobs in the administration than any other man and yet he never got any of them. There have been rumors that he and Mr. Roosevelt had split. There is nothing to them.

The truth is he has had plenty of proposals but not the right one. He would have taken a cabinet position but it was not offered. He turned down directorship of the budget.

Now his closest friends have the word he will not take anything that is left except a judicial appointment. He rates it.

NEWSPAPER
Ex-Senator George Moses is penning around to get Ogden Mills and Mellon interested in buying the bankrupt Washington Post. Moses wanted to be named receiver for the property but is not a local resident. The money-men could save on their income taxes by taking the expensive leap into journalism. Moses would make a crackjack Republican editor.

If they do not get the influential paper the Democrats will. Publisher Adolph Ochs of the N. Y. Times has been asked to buy it and declined because he had enough to think of. Two Democratic political sources are ready with some money.

The matter is of national significance because a newspaper with prestige at the seat of government has strong influence on congress and the administration.

INSTRUCTION
The ranking member of Mr. Roosevelt's intercollegiate brain trust, Prof. Raymond Moley, has a secret. He slips off work each Thursday and goes back to Columbia University to teach classes. The next day he returns.

There may be a precedent for an assistant state secretary teaching economics on the side but no one has been able to find any yet. He should get the French and British ambassadors to enter his class.

SMITH
Senator Copeland continues to say there is nothing in the revived yarn that he will be sent to an ambassadorship so Al Smith can come to the senate. Nevertheless there is something in it even if Senator Copeland does not know about it yet.

You cannot be sure the deal will come off but it is just as good a prospect as it was last winter.

POSTAGE
Hints that Postmaster General Farley will reduce the 3-cent postage before long have a good foundation. Departmental estimates indicate that the low rate will bring $50,000,000 more in revenue than the 3-cent charge.

SOVIETS
The Roosevelt administration cautiously dropped the Russian recognition program temporarily a few days ago. Apparently they will wait to see how the detention of British citizens for sabotage develops. Ultimate recognition appears to be just as certain as it ever was.

JAPAN
All M. Matsuoka did here was to spread the seeds of Japanese propaganda around in high places. He made no effort to do any negotiating in his conference with the president or the state secretary. His seeds won't produce.

NOTES
What France has been trying to do under cover is to arrange for delaying the June 15 war debt payment before she lays the overdue Dec. 15 installment on the line. . . . The administration has been declining to make any promises. . . . The Wall Street crowd which comes trooping in here at odd times seems to like Mr. Roosevelt fairly well. . . . Their only worry is that he is too vigorous and they do not know how far he is going. . . . They are not keen on his banking program and claim he opened too many banks but are willing to go along with nearly anything he wants to do up to now. . . . State Secretary Hull smothered his promised pronouncement on disarmament pending the arrival of Norman Davis at the scene of action in Europe. . . . It may come from the state department whenever Davis cables back that the time is propitious.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

The real outlook for control of oil production is not so good despite official bulletins. Insiders say that pro-rata rationing will be done without uniform state enforcement and the chance that state authorities can get together on an intelligent program is rated as very slim.

Oil at 10c a barrel is in sight. This would exterminate many of the small producers who refuse to cooperate on pro-rata. The big companies are perfectly willing to indulge in a price war if government authorities refuse responsibility for clamping on the lid.

The Standard Oil group is not as predominant in the picture as most people suppose. All the Standard Oil companies combined control only about 40 per cent of present oil resources in this country. Also the Rockefeller interests have gradually been withdrawing from some of the Standard companies. They are out of Standard of Kansas and their stake in Standard of Indiana is much reduced. Their major holdings now are in the New York, New Jersey and California corporations.

Here is how some of the big companies stand on restricting production by government authority:

Standard of New Jersey (with its important subsidiary—Humble Oil) is strongly in favor of government action. The same is true of Texas Corporation.

Gulf Oil—controlled by the Mellons via the foreclosure route—doesn't like the idea of government "meddling." They would rather fight it out in a free-for-all. Sinclair Oil has a reputation of being the bad boy of the industry. It is in wrong with Texas authorities and others. It naturally prefers to retain freedom of action.

FUEL
More progress has been made with an alcohol substitute for gasoline as a motor fuel than the public has been told. That is why Standard of New Jersey has been intrenching its position in Corn Products and U. S. Industrial Alcohol.

confer with friends of the administration. Mr. Matsuoka had these guards glued to him even in private homes while the conversations were going on. He modestly explained that feeling runs so high in Japan that were anything to happen to him while here war between us and Japan could probably not be averted. At the same time he declared that there is less real reason for friction between two countries than between any other of the great powers.

Mr. Matsuoka is regarded by the specialists as the most influential man in Japan, being close both to the emperor and to the emperor's intimate, Baron Makino. His presence here is felt to be of the greatest significance. There is reason to believe that President Roosevelt intends to cooperate with him in bringing about friendlier relations between this country and Japan.

HELPER
New York friends of Leonor F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson, believe that he is set to give Secretary Roper and the president definite pointers on the transportation problem when he gets to Washington on an invitation for conferences. Mr. Loree has a plan up his sleeve which could be put through with little or no legislation. He has great confidence that it will be the foundation for the administration's final writing of the transportation bill.

PEACE
The political situation in New York is about to experience change of life. Although Mr. Flynn, the Bronx leader, has had the inside track on local candidates up to now, those who are close to the situation say that an understanding will soon be reached. Then the democracy of Manhattan (Tammany) will be working harmoniously with all other factions to present a united front in upholding the administration's plans.

Several local drys—one of whom figured notably in the Republican campaign—have done their bit behind the scenes to stir up dissension on the New York State Beer Bill. One of them has told friends he believes the wrangle has improved by 50 per cent the chances of killing it.

SOVIETS
New York connections with the Russian situation are convinced that the arrest of the British engineers on charges of obstructing public works in Stalin's way of telling the peasants that it wasn't his fault the Five Year Plan didn't work. It was the capitalist countries who sent their agents disguised as experts to prevent Russian success.

A few months ago in reviewing the Five Year Plan before the Conference of the Central Committee of the Communist party, Stalin lamented that the remnants of the nobility, clergy, peasant proprietors, officers and police, and the intelligentsia of different sorts were still alive and kicking. They had crept, he declared, into industrial enterprises and above all into the collective and state farms.

They were monkey wrenches in the works, he tells the disappointed masses. And do they believe him? Hard to say. Famine spreads, and with it the suspicion that Stalin's back needs the wall.

JAPAN
Two secret service men accompanied Matsuoka, chief Japanese delegate to the league on his recent round of New York visits to confer with friends of the administration. Mr. Matsuoka had these guards glued to him even in private homes while the conversations were going on. He modestly explained that feeling runs so high in Japan that were anything to happen to him while here war between us and Japan could probably not be averted. At the same time he declared that there is less real reason for friction between two countries than between any other of the great powers.

Mr. Matsuoka is regarded by the specialists as the most influential man in Japan, being close both to the emperor and to the emperor's intimate, Baron Makino. His presence here is felt to be of the greatest significance. There is reason to believe that President Roosevelt intends to cooperate with him in bringing about friendlier relations between this country and Japan.

New York friends of Leonor F. Mr. Loree has a plan up his sleeve which could be put through with little or no legislation. He has great confidence that it will be the foundation for the administration's final writing of the transportation bill.

EDDY COMPARES CONDITIONS IN INDIA, RUSSIA

Contrasting conditions of Russia with those of India, and concluding his speech with a stirring discussion of the present plight of the United States, Dr. Sherwood Eddy, noted lecturer, was guest speaker in Santa Ana junior college's annual "Y" day assembly.

Social justice by compulsion, as exists in Russia, and social justice and freedom by non-violent resistance, policy of India, were discussed by Dr. Eddy as he touched upon the social, economic and spiritual life of both countries.

Lesson To Learn

"There is a lesson we can learn from Russia," Dr. Eddy stated. "Russia has a passion for social justice, a passion to end child labor, unemployment and other economic evils." The noted speaker pointed out that very little unemployment now exists in this vast territory, and that in fighting child labor Russia has more than 95 per cent of its children in school.

Included in the speaker's short discussion of India was the statement that the country has the poorest people in the world. Their average income, he said, is $27 per year.

Dr. Eddy described Gandhi, and related the highlights of a 10-day visit which he had with the Indian. The speaker stressed Gandhi's theory that love is stronger than dynamite, and told of the situations which the Indian had overcome without using "dynamite."

mise" methods similar to those of the dictatorship in Russia.

Depression in U. S.

Speaking of the present plight of the world, and the United States in particular, Dr. Eddy declared "We are in the greatest transition of all time. We have hardly begun this depression." He pointed out the evils of capitalism, and stated that there must be a more equal distribution of the world's products before the greatest problems will be solved.

Dr. Eddy was introduced in assembly by Miss Jean Rockwell, president of the Y.W.C.A. in the junior college.

PLAN CLASS FOR MEXICAN MOTHERS

WINTERSBURG, April 6.—Tentative plans for organizing a class of Mexican Mothers of the community were made by members of the Wesleyan Service club at an evening meeting Monday held at the Methodist church hall.

Mrs. W. A. Matson was made chairman of a committee to make a canvass of the community with Miss Shoneberg and Miss Zexie Nichols as other members. Matson is seeking for the needy will be in readiness for the May meeting of the club, with the Misses June Slater and Bonnylyn Fox appointed to make the purchases.

A committee consisting of Miss Donna Stinson, chairman, and Miss Alberta Pratt, was named to work with the missionary women arranging for the "mystery mothers" meeting of next month.

Present at the meeting were the Misses Donna Stinson, Bonnylyn Fox, Veda Eaton, Alberta Pratt, June Slater, Ethel Dwyer, Zexie Nichols, Mrs. Marjorie Gardner and Mrs. W. A. Matson.

Woman's Club In Program April 11

BREA, April 5.—A meeting of the executive board of the Brea Woman's club was held this week with the president, Mrs. W. E. Fanning, when plans were made for the program which will be presented on April 11.

A luncheon, the last of the year, will be served by the ways and means committee, Mrs. Frank Wharton, chairman, Mrs. Catherine Wall is chairman of the hostess committee.

The program will feature Jeanne L'Strange Cappel, who will speak on American Indians. The theme of the program will be "The First American Home," with the music section in charge and presenting Indian songs and settings.

"GRAND SLAM" ON AT FOX BROADWAY STARTING TODAY

From "Rasputin and the Empress" story of terror and heavy drama, the Fox Broadway theater today turns to one of the best comedies that has come to the screen in a long time. It is "Grand Slam," which plays today, Friday and Saturday.

"Grand Slam" is a story of bridge players, would be bridge players and hokum. It stars Paul Lukas and Loretta Young with Frank McHugh and Glenda Farrell.

Whether you like bridge or not, you'll like "Grand Slam". It is the story of a man who hated bridge, but who, for the love of his wife, gave himself to to for a year. At the end of that time he had become so deeply engrossed in its intricate plays that he lost his wife, but his "system" had swept the nation.

Aside from the feature is a William C. Fields' comedy, "The Fatal Glass of Beer," a novelty, "How Movies are Made," a Lillian Roth musical and Fox Movie-tone News.

Police News

Police were called to search the attic of the Ramona Building at Fifth and Sycamore streets last night when it was reported that a man was seen prowling there. The man was not found, but officers reported that apparently some man had made his home in the attic for the past several days. They found several magazines and bedding.

Bruce Switzer, of 2102 North Ross street, reported a prowler was seen near his home last night. Police searched the neighborhood and questioned a local man found in the vicinity, but no arrest was made.

Joe Etchandy, Atwood rancher, wanted on a charge of violation of probation, was lodged in the county jail last night by deputy sheriffs. He originally was arrested by Logan Jackson, sheriff, on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor.

Politically Speaking

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 6.—(UP)—The belief exists Governor Rolph is deliberately putting off the day he must act on the Inman investigating committee report.

The governor has been accused of "stalling"—this because of his failure to respond to the first installment of the report which concentrates on Roland A. Vandegrift, director of finance and Dr. J. M. Toner, director of instructions.

Although he has been assured the report is complete insofar as these two men are concerned, the governor refuses to do anything, affirmative or negative, until he has the complete summation. And the final installment isn't even in the making.

In a word, the report is current Rolph is sparing for time on the theory public furor aroused by the Inman hearings will die a natural death. On which event, he would retain most of his cabinet intact.

Urban opposition against the Riley-Stewart tax plan is becoming more audible. Merchants, opposed to the transactions tax feature, are laying down a barrage of letters to assemblymen.

It is by no means a lead-pipe cinch the plan will go through at this writing. One prominent assemblyman put the thing in a nutshell. "It's not sold on this plan. It has good points and bad. But I certainly want to give the people an opportunity to vote on it, unless a better alternative is offered. And I haven't seen one yet."

Arguments against the proposal are mounting. One is that a concern must pay the one per cent transaction tax whether it makes money or not. Thus a concern could operate at a loss and still be compelled to contribute.

Vandegrift has a special talent for running his own into trouble. His fight with John Brennan, director of the veterans and military affairs department, and Eric Cullenward, assistant director of the department of public works, was entirely uncoiled for. These men charged "Van" was trying to dictate departmental economies. Fast was, Vandegrift was merely assisting the assembly ways and means committee. A word of explanation should have sufficed. Instead the three staged a "Kilkeny cat fight" that disrupted the Rolph cabinet.

Much of this educational economy legislation that has zipped through the senate with such consummate ease, is headed straight for a fight in the assembly. In the lower house lies the hope of the so-called "school lobby." The assembly has already killed the senate measure withdrawing state school supervision. Other upper house bills are scheduled for the same fate. Some may not even get out of assembly committee.

Don't be startled if Vandegrift keeps his job after all . . . and do be amazed if Toner sticks . . . they're saying the bill permitting a person to name his party preference primary election day is to guarantee Hiram Johnson's reelection. . . . It's almost a certainty Dr. Gregory Sabichi will be transferred from Whittier school to the Pacific colony superintendency—Judge E. J. Milne, Los Angeles, would succeed him . . . latest to join the "about-to-be-fired" club is George K. Homa, chief of the state narcotics division . . . and Home may actually go . . . the governor insists he does not contemplate firing Mrs. Rhea Crawford Spillavo.

Women Jam Theater For Cooking School; Ends Friday

MEATS TO BE FEATURED AT FINAL SESSION

Food at ever so many local parties is going to be unusually delectable in the future and even the desserts and salads at home are going to take on the gay flavor of parties, if the attendance at the second session of the Register-Safeway Stores Home-makers' Bureau's three-day "course in kitchening" this morning is any indicator.

For the throngs that jammed the theater who "came, saw and were conquered" by the delights revealed by Miss Margaret Coates, the Bureau's Home Economist, were obviously looking forward with keen anticipation to early opportunities to put their new knowledge into use. As they filed out of the Fox West Coast theater they were unanimous in their expressions of pleasure, and just which novel recipe won the most favor would be most difficult to decide.

Cakes and Salads
Perhaps it was the coffee-chocolate cake, which may be a little hard to picture but which is certainly not difficult either to make or to enjoy. Perhaps it was the ginger ale salad, a gay mixture of pineapple, celery, olives, pineapple juice, cayenne pepper and ginger ale, all made firm and highly edible by the addition of gelatin. Or, perhaps, it was the angelfood cake, which was just a little different from other angelfood cakes in several respects, and particularly in that it offered the surprising and apparently welcome addition of raisins. It was shown, too, how this cake and the coffee-chocolate cake went economically hand in hand in the matter of eggs.

There must have been those, too, who would have given an enthusiastic first prize to the pineapple hammettes, the recipe for which involved, in addition to the unusual combination of pineapple and ham, such surprising elements as milk and mustard, pepper and sweet potatoes, salt, cloves and marshmallows. And what a happy result it achieved in the end there are many who will be willing to testify.

Quick Icings
Cake fillings and icings came in for their share of the afternoon, too, what with festive cake filling that was said to improve even angelfood and a seven-minute chocolate icing which seemed also to prove its claims even to the satisfaction of the most icing-critical male.

Another feature of the morning was a supper salad loaf simply made from an even dozen of varied ingredients that, viewed as things apart, seemed scarcely imaginable in combination, but which proved to have a natural affinity for one another, and the third salad offering of the afternoon took denizens of the deep and made them into a tasty tidbit for those whose appetites run to sea foods.

There was a dainty and very easily completed recipe for margarites, too, using common, everyday salted wafers as a base for this pleasant aside when fruits or frozen desserts are served.

Sandwich Specials
Miss Coates showed conclusively that the day of the new in sandwiches is not yet over, but demonstrated a mixed quartet that promised genuine harmony for an afternoon or evening. They were simply sandwiches, too, involving little more than bread and butter, cheese, milk, raisins and nuts, parsley anchovy and pimiento, the sort of things one finds in almost any kitchen on almost any day.

And for something novel in dessert Miss Coates introduced a frozen maple treat that won the hearts of those in attendance and gave promise of winning friends over countless Santa Ana tables in the future. The recipe for the dessert, Maple Freeze, follows:

2 cups milk
2 tablespoons gelatin
2 egg yolks
1 cup canned maple syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
Few grains salt
1 cup pastry cream.

Soften gelatin in 1-4 cup of cold milk. Scald 1 cup milk and pour over the beaten egg yolks. Cook and stir until custard coats the spoon. Remove from fire, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill. Add remaining milk, maple syrup, vanilla, salt and pour into freezing tray. When mixture begins to set, stir in the cream, beaten until thick, but not stiff. Freeze. Stir several times during the freezing process.

Tomorrow Last Day
Commenting on the afternoon's program, Miss Coates said: "The great increase in home entertainment during the past year has given the Safeway Stores Home-makers' Bureau a busy time in providing party ideas. The recipes which we presented at this session were all selected by Mrs. Julia Lee Wright, national director of the Bureau, as among the very choicest developed for party purposes in the Bureau's kitchen during the past year, but it should also be pointed out that every one of them is ideal for family use, and we are sure that many of them will be used often for just that purpose."

"The third and last session tomorrow morning will feature the preparation of meats, including fowl roasted in a blanket, sausage stuffing, standing rib roast of beef and meat dumplings, but will also cover a variety of other dishes of unusual interest. The session will start promptly at 10 a. m. at the Fox West Coast theater and we are looking forward to a capacity attendance."

ENFORCEMENT OF ANTI-BEER LAW DISCUSSED

Discussion of the sale of intoxicating liquors within the county brought out many conflicting angles when the matter was taken up by members of the Orange County Peace Officers association, at the monthly meeting last night in the social hall of the Brea Congregational church.

Just to what length a police officer may go in making arrests for law-breaking incident to sales of intoxicating liquor was a major point discussed.

Upon being questioned, District Attorney S. E. Kaufman declared that the county ordinance prohibiting the transportation of liquor will be strictly enforced.

Judge Kenneth E. Morrison, Santa Ana justice of the peace, spoke on the origin of the words "constable" and "sheriff," which he said dated back to the days of Roman rule. He also told of the proper conduct of an officer in making arrests and in securing needed information, declaring that his experience as a judge enabled him to prove that courtesy on the part of the officer always pays.

Music for the meeting was furnished by Frank Holley's orchestra, with A. J. Barnes, principal of Olinda schools, at the piano in the absence of the regular pianist, Bob Close played several numbers on the accordion.

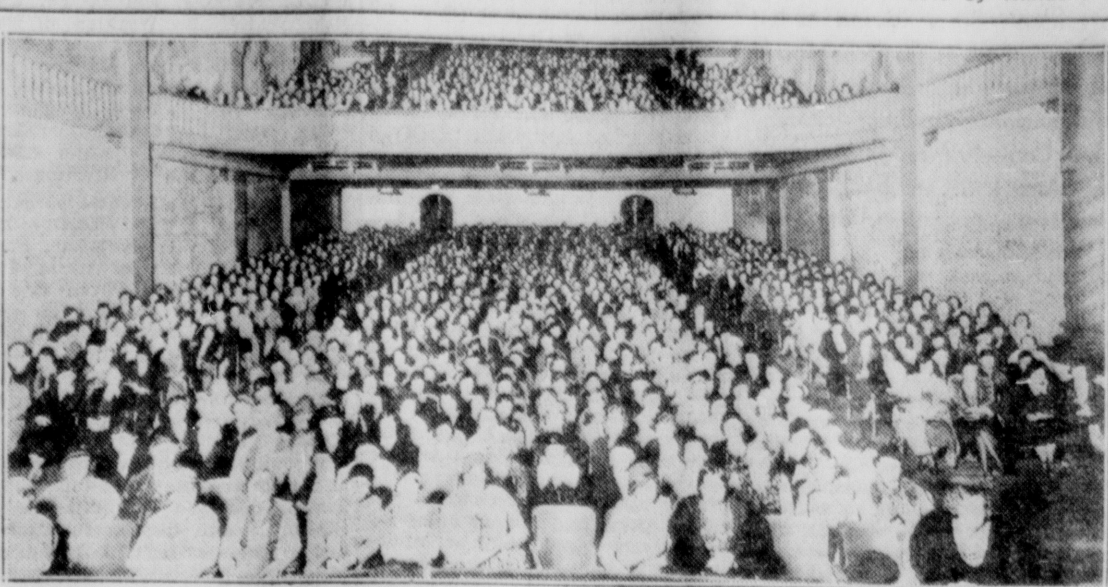

More than 50 were present for the dinner which was served by the church Guild.

The final session of the school will be held tomorrow morning.

SANTA ANA SALVATION ARMY CORPS MONTHLY REPORT SHOWS RELIEF BEING GIVEN TO MANY

A total of 2055 meals was given out by the Santa Ana corps, Salvation Army, during the past month, according to the monthly report released today by Major F. Schute, local corps officer.

Beds were supplied to 932 persons and 832 families were given bread and milk during the month. The total number of persons in families given bread and milk was 1385. A total of 128 garments were given to 79 persons, besides 29 pairs of shoes.

Transportation was furnished to three persons. A total of 58 books and magazines were given away and the officers sent for three letters for persons.

Out of 38 men who applied for work, 28 were supplied with work, and out of 24 women applicants for work, 6 were given work.

A total of 371 garments, 44 pairs shoes, 42 pieces of furniture and 44 other articles were given at small remuneration.

Besides the regular activities, which were about the same as the previous month, two truck loads of goods were collected for sufferers in Long Beach immediately after the earthquake. The goods included 75 quilts and blankets, clothing, electric stoves, beds and other articles valued at $150. Cots were supplied also to the National Guards during the quake.

ECONOMY PROPOSAL OF BACKS SUPPORTED

Suggestions of County Clerk J. M. Backs for economy in conduct of the special election to be held in this state June 6 may be improved upon if senate bill No. 5 is given legislative approval.

Tuesday Backs requested permission of the supervisors to consolidate precincts in incorporated areas for the election reducing the number in the county from 224 to 167. He also was given permission to reduce the number of officials on the election boards from six to four. His suggestion that officials be paid $4 for the day was declined with the supervisors voting to pay $5 per day per official.

According to senate bill No. 5, a copy of which was received by Backs this morning, if the measure becomes effective the consolidation of precincts will be permissible but instead of four members of each election board there will be three and their remuneration will be at the rate of $3 per day.

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT TO BE GIVEN TUESDAY

On Tuesday evening, April 11, the Cadman Choral club will present its second concert of the season at the Frances Willard Junior High school auditorium. The program will consist of both new and well-known songs, and a delightful evening is anticipated by those acquainted with the ability of the club, it is said.

"The Last Night" by Joseph Closskey, a well-known Southern California composer, will open the program. It will be followed by "Nightfall in Granada" by the Spanish composer Ruano. A charming group, "Sketches from Italy" by Gretscher includes "Tarentella," the popular Neapolitan dance, a barcarolle, "In Venice," suggesting the Venetian gondola, and closing with a jolly Sicilian folk-song, "Carretta Siciliana"—the Sicilian Cart. In contrast is "Mersey" by Mana-Zucca, a Hebrew

BARGAINS

WE BELIEVE THE DAY OF "MAKE BELIEVE" TIRE BARGAINS IS ENDED.

The car owners of Southern California have been deluged for the past three years with old stock, discontinued designs and cheap tires, "made to sell."

Our motorists have learned just how expensive such merchandise can be. They appreciate what we have stressed for over twelve years—First Quality Rubber plus Real Service means lowest cost per thousand miles.

Since their arrival here ten days ago for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Shidder and family, 1129 South Garvey street, Mrs. Shidder's aunt and cousin, Mrs. R. A. Wheelock and Mrs. V. E. Marshall of Tacoma, Wash., have been on a variety of Southern California tours, with promise of an equally interesting ten days ahead of them.

Card Party

Adding to their enjoyment was a recent card party given in their honor when Mr. and Mrs. Shidder entertained with an informal affair in their home. Bridge was played, with Mrs. Archie Perkins and William Lawrence scoring high, and Mrs. Parkinson and J. H. Patton, low.

In concluding their hospitality, the hosts served refreshments, decorations for which included sweet peas and ranunculus from the home gardens.

Those present other than the honored guests and the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Parkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Perkins, and E. W. Ellis.

Trips Made

Mrs. Wheelock and Mrs. Marshall made the journey to California by boat, completing the trip here by motor. During a pleasant interval, they have enjoyed a visit in Pasadena with Mrs. Shidder's father, H. R. Shad-den, a former Tacoma, Wash. resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Shidder and daughter, Elizabeth and Jacqueline, joined with Mrs. Wheelock and Mrs. Marshall in a week end trip to Coachella Valley to visit Mrs. Shidder's brother, E. R. Shad-den. The return home afforded stops at such points as Imperial Valley, Agua Caliente, San Diego and Ramona's Marriage Place.

Having spent yesterday in Los Angeles, the Washington visitors returned there today to have luncheon with friends from their home city. They expect to spend the week end at Catalina, and on Monday will be joined by Mrs. Shidder in a tour of the Henry Huntington Library at San Marino.

Hollywood and Riverside are other points which they expect to visit while here. It has been over thirty years since Mrs. Wheelock has been to California. Mrs. Marshall was here a few years ago on her wedding trip.

Santa Ana Man Takes Dallas Bride At Church Rites

A ceremony taking place in the chapel of the First Methodist church Sunday afternoon and uniting Miss Ardis Wilden, daughter of Mrs. Eva B. Wilden of Dallas, Tex., and William Howell, son of Mrs. Frances M. Howell, 1445 Orange avenue, climaxed a romance of two years.

Prior to the reading of the rites by Dr. George A. Warner, pastor, Miss Ruth Beamer sang "At Dawning" accompanied by Mrs. Lannan K. Wells. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Katherine Budd, the bride party entered a chapel beautiful with sprays of bridal wreath.

As maid of honor, Miss Helen Miller of Huntington Park wore pink organdy and carried sweet peas of deeper tone. The bride's blondness was accentuated by a gown of soft crepe in a tint of delicate apple green, her bouquet being of pale pink and orchid sweet peas. Mr. Howell was served by Herman W. Goodwin Jr. as best man. The ring bestowed on the bride was made by the bridegroom.

Flowers of lavender and pink coloring adorned the home of Mrs. Frances M. Howell, to which guests repaired for the reception at service's close. After a brief period of congratulation the new Mr. and Mrs. Howell departed for Los Angeles, where they are making arrangements to reside permanently.

Following graduation from Santa Ana high school Mr. Howell attended Santa Ana junior college, later studying at the Bradley School of Horology in Peoria, Ill. His bride finished her secondary work at El Paso high school, subsequently entering Los Angeles junior college and the Teachers' college in Denton, Tex. She has been a Santa Ana resident for several months.

Out of town wedding guests included Mrs. and Mrs. Claude Caspary, Miss Virginia Caspary, Mrs. Rose Ferguson, Miss Marion Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cathcart of Los Angeles.

At Luncheon Hour

Luncheon courtesies were opened by Mrs. O'Toole, county president, with a cleverly worded toast to Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. O'Toole's analogy took the form of a "perfect portrait" in which the several features assembled were described as symbolizing the finest civic and social virtues, and the completed portrait declared to be Mrs. Coulter. Mrs. Coulter responded with wit and wit, and there followed a message from the national association, voiced by Mrs. Percy, president of the American auxiliary.

In the afternoon's principal address, on literature, Dr. Florence Kellar of Los Angeles deplored the type of writing available today for young people and argued for adolescent books of a more worthy quality. She spoke also of her extensive travels.

Earlier program numbers included two violin groups, played by Mrs. Coils and Mr. Koch, both of Fullerton, accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Curtis of Brea, a member of the county auxiliary. Other features were tenor solos by Gordon Drew of Fullerton, accompanied by Miss Davis, also of that city, and a solo by Irma Huffman, Santa Ana soprano, whose piano accompaniment was played by Mrs. Curtis.

Decorative Effect

Decorations were beautifully contrived, the spring note being accentuated in the appointment of lounge and hall, as well as of the luncheon tables, which latter were particularly striking. Tables, laid with lace flit over yellow, bore sprays of pastel tinted flowers, while at each place rosebud nut cups of green, pink and coral, and individual programs of pastel color were special features of decoration. MEDICAL AUXILIARY AFFAIR
HONORS NEW STATE LEADER

Tendered in tribute to Mrs. F. E. Coulter, soon to depart for Del Monte to direct the state convention of the women's auxiliary of the California Medical association in her capacity as president, the luncheon given Tuesday in Ebell club patio by the women's auxiliary of the Orange County Medical association was a more impressive gesture for the presence of county, state and national auxiliary leaders. Chief of these executives were Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. James F. Percy of Los Angeles, president of the American auxiliary, and Mrs. C. S. O'Toole of Anaheim, county auxiliary head and presiding officer.

Prominent among the distinguished guests was Mrs. W. J. Mitchell of Budapest, to whom the auxiliary presented an invitation to honorary membership. The honor expressed the auxiliary's appreciation of the work accomplished by the late Dr. Mitchell as Orange county health officer and as founder of the Orange County Health unit, organized under the Rockefeller foundation. Going subsequently to Budapest to continue medical work, the late physician met there and married the present Mrs. Mitchell, a member of the Turkish royal family.

Mrs. Mitchell, who has been residing recently in Los Angeles, will leave within two weeks for Europe, she revealed. Her invitation to honorary membership, inscribed on a parchment scroll, was signed by Mrs. C. S. O'Toole and Mrs. Newell Moore, state president and secretary of the county auxiliary.

Among other guests of prominent office who augmented medical auxiliary notables in attendance were women holding posts on Mrs. Coulter's state auxiliary board, those able to attend including Mesdames Philip Schuyler Doane of Pasadena, past president of the Los Angeles county auxiliary; A. Bennett Cooke of Pasadena, president of the latter auxiliary; Ellen Alden and Clifford Wright, also of Los Angeles; E. A. Blondin and Willard H. Newman of San Diego. Also seated at the speaker's table were Mesdames Hiram Murray, J. I. Clark and Newell Moore of this city and E. J. Steen and R. C. Green of Fullerton.

Watkins-Mackenzie Rites
Performed In Setting
Of Distinction

A ceremony whose setting combined the intimacy of the home with the impressiveness of a public affair dedicated to an individual occurred last night at 8 o'clock, uniting in marriage Harlan B. Watkins, son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter E. Watkins of 203 South Main street, and Miss Catherine Mackenzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mackenzie of Kellogg, Ida. The wedding's scene was the beautiful Carrie Jacobs Bond room in the Glenwood Mission Inn at Riverside.

The room's sentimental associations proved doubly effective for the beauty of the decoration, Easter lilies and iris of white and yellow having been woven into a solid floral bank to form an impressive altar, lit by the tapers of candelabra. Officiating at this altar was the Rev. Mr. Eggle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Riverside, who read the service.

Wedding guests, intimate friends and relatives of bride and bridegroom, observed the entrance of the bride and her single attendant to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played on the organ. Preceded by her sister, Miss Christine Mackenzie, attired in flowered crepe whose tones combined yellow and burnt orange, wearing a hat of matching color and carrying talisman roses, the bride made an effective entry.

Gowned in pure white, the bride was lovely in a costume fashioned of angelica lace with a white bridal veil encircled by a halo-like wreath of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was equally striking, comprising Rose Marie rosebuds of pink tones and lilies of the valley.

B. Z. McKinney of this city attended the bridegroom as best man.

A light wedding supper was served at the ceremony's end, the party doing special pleasure from a bridal cake, which had been brought by the bride from Kellogg, Ida., where it had been presented her by friends.

A courtship which extended through four college years was begun with the meeting of Mr. Watkins and his bride in their freshman year at Oregon State college at Corvallis, Ore., from which both graduated last June.

A member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority at the university, the bride was president of her chapter in her senior year, while Mr. Watkins was actively affiliated with the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. Prior to entering the northern college he graduated from Santa Ana high school.

After a brief honeymoon at the Mission Inn the couple will establish residence near Randsburg, where Mr. Watkins will be engaged in the developing of gold mines, a work which has sentimental associations, his bride's father having mined near Edin-burgh, Scotland, before coming to America.

Miss Christine Mackenzie, who accompanied her sister to California, has been the houseguest during the past day or two of Dr. and Mrs. Walter E. Watkins. She is leaving immediately for San Francisco, where she will visit briefly before returning to Idaho.

Canadian Veterans
Announce Dance Plans

Canadian Legionnaires, whose organization in Orange county was an event of the past winter, are planning a gala affair for Saturday night, April 8, when they will entertain at a benefit dance in the beautiful Social clubhouse at San Clemente, according to plans announced today by the commander, Leslie E. Moote of Santa Ana.

The party will be strictly informal and dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock to music by Polk Burke's entertainers, an orchestra which has achieved much popularity among dancers.

Moote today explained that the County Canadian Legion is designed to carry on welfare work among members of the Canadian forces who are now in this locality, and that the dance is being given to raise funds for this work. A nominal price is being asked for tickets in order to make a large attendance possible, and the Canadian veterans are asking their friends and all who enjoy an evening of dancing, to share the evening's pleasure.

Associated with Leslie E. Moote, commander, in planning for the affair, are Russell Monroe, first vice commander, and Dr. John Helmecken, second vice commander, also of this city.

Delta Sigma Groups
Reveal Plans For Spring Dance

An anticipated event for Saturday night, April 8, is the semi-formal dance which Santa Ana and Long Beach chapters of Delta Sigma fraternity are joining to present at Meadowlark Country club, near the beach city.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Vinzant, whose marriage was a charming event of late January, are to be among the patrons and patronesses. Mrs. Vinzant was Miss Velma King, lovely daughter of the Vernon Kings of Garden Grove. In the group with them will be Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Lusk and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frazee of Long Beach. Mrs. Frazee will be recalled as a former Santa Ana girl also, Miss Veda Mitchell. She and Mr. Frazee have been living in Long Beach practically ever since their marriage of two years ago.

The young people will dance to music furnished by Glenn Gilmore and his Town Boys, a 10-piece orchestra in high favor among dance devotees. Various entertainment features are being arranged, including a dance contest in which winners receive a beautiful trophy.

Robert White of Long Beach holds the chairmanship of the committee planning the dance, and has as his co-workers Messrs. Owen Jackson, William Cheney and Victor Robert Silver, all of the Long Beach chapter.

CURRY LEAVES TO GET WORK ORDERS OKAYED

County Welfare Director B. V. Curry is leaving tonight for Sacramento for conference with R. C. Branton, state administrator of relief funds, in an effort to secure approval of enough projects to put needy unemployed to work in this county immediately.

In a telephone conversation late yesterday Branton assured Curry that he would approve, without sending to Washington, D. C., sufficient projects to enable immediate use of the R. F. C. fund of $50,000 apportioned to Orange county.

During the conference Curry will attempt to secure approval of his original plan of putting 2500 men to work immediately without classifying as to the number of dependents. Curry said that at present the important thing is to get the men working. Classification as to the number of dependents will follow later, he said.

Under the plan of distributing work, as worked out by Curry, 2500 men would be given employment in the county. The work would be apportioned among the incorporated areas on a percentage basis figured from the number of unemployed in each incorporated city and unincorporated areas. Under the present setup approximately 700 Santa Ana men would be given employment under the relief program.

Curry said this morning that placing the R. F. C. relief fund in operation will not be a difficult matter after all rules are interpreted by Branton and A. W. McMillan of the R. F. C. organization.

RESIDENT HERE 48 YEARS DIES AT HIS HOME

Arthur Cummings, 77, a resident of Santa Ana for the past 48 years, died yesterday. His death resulted from a broken hip and shock from which he never recovered. He had not lived here continuously during the 48 years, but has been here most of the time.

He is survived by seven sons, William A., Charles M., Leslie B., Albert L., Elmer J., and H. B. Cummings, all of Santa Ana, and Perry E. Cummings of Inglewood; two daughters, Mrs. Cora E. Frowles of Anaheim, and Mrs. Florence Brookmiller of Medford, Oregon; 29 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren, and one brother, Steven Cummings of North Brookfield, Mass.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel of the Harrell and Brown Funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, with the Rev. W. S. Buchanan, pastor of the First Christian church officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of pills, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect man to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

RETIRED MERCHANT CALLED BY DEATH

Joseph E. Tillotson, 81, retired Santa Ana merchant, died at his home, 422 South Sycamore street, yesterday following an illness of several months duration.

He was engaged in business here for 12 years but retired in 1925. He was a member of Santa Ana Masonic lodge, and had lived in Santa Ana for the past 46 years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary L. Tillotson; two sons, L. J. Tillotson of Bakersfield and C. B. Tillotson of San Bernardino; a daughter, Mrs. Eugene Reiff of Santa Ana, and a brother, L. E. Tillotson of Minneapolis, Minn. Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the Smith and Tuttle Funeral home, Sixth and Broadway streets, Saturday at 2 p. m. with the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

GREAT BRITAIN AROUSED OVER SOVIET ACTION

The soviet prepared to inject new discord into a dangerously strained world situation by calling six British subjects before a revolutionary tribunal Monday to answer charges of sabotage.

The British government, having met an indignant refusal when it demanded immediate release of its nationals without trial, threatened a complete embargo against soviet goods. Faced with the loss of its best customers, the soviet clung to its intention of bringing the men to trial.

The trial was awaited with the keenest interest in both soviet and foreign circles. It was felt that important repercussions in foreign relations were probable, and that the immediate drama of the hearing would be placed in the limelight of world wide attention.

It was realized that the trial would coincide throughout Europe, with hopes of disarmament at their lowest and war talk increasingly widespread and reckless. Soviet officials did not underestimate the seriousness of Britain's threat to retaliate with an embargo. The shutting off of Russia's chief market might be almost disastrous.

Since the arrests, the soviet has been anxious to placate British feeling as far as possible without sacrificing its own pride. The immediate release of two of the accused—Allan Monkhouse, chief of the British Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical company staff in Russia, and Charles Nordwall, construction engineer—and the subsequent admission of three others to bail, represented concessions almost without precedent in the history of soviet counter revolutionary trials.

But when Britain demanded the abandonment of all plans to try its nationals, the soviet balked. William H. Thornton, A. W. Gregory and John Cushny, who with Monkhouse and Nordwall are free on bail, await the trial with the utmost calm, apparently sustained by faith in their government's intercession. Because of the delicacy of their positions, foreign correspondents have agreed not to insist on interviews. William MacDonald, the sixth British arrested, still is in jail.

ALL ISSUES ON STOCK MARKET ADVANCE TODAY

When grains opened strong and active, issues whose companies would profit by higher grain prices were bid up. Later all issues in the so-called commodity group swung into action on the upside. American woolen issues, the farm equipments, mercantile shares and packing stocks made gains, some approaching their highs for the year.

Gold mining issues moved up with Homestake & Alaska Juneau at new tops for the year. Silver issues were strong throughout the session as advocates of silver legislation conferred with Secretary Woodin. Cerro de Pasco made a new high for the year, as did U. S. Smelting and International Silver issues.

Steel issues made belated response to the recent trend toward greater activity in the industry. Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Gulf States Steel were strong throughout the session. Steel common closed at 23 3/4, up 11-8.

In the sugar group new 1933 highs were made by American Sugar Refining, American Beet Sugar issues, Great Western Sugar, Guantanamo issues, Manatani, South Porto Rico and Cuban American preferred.

Oils ruled firm on progress toward curtailing production of crude oil. Rubber issues moved higher, with best gains in Good-year. Lorillard preferred made a new top in a strong tobacco market. R. H. Macy reached a new 1933 high in the department store division.

Sales today totaled 1,230,000 shares as against 1,140,000 shares yesterday.

Dow-Jones averages showed: Industrials, 58.80, up 1.30; railroad, 24.41, up 0.77; utility, 19.53, up 0.06.

Aggregate market value of 10 leading issues was $4,744,550,950, against $4,668,929,472, yesterday, a gain of $75,621,481.

WAS OBSTINATE PRISONER THE MOVIE STAR?

Employees around the county court house today are wondering if the Constance L. Bennett, of 1787 North Vista street, Los Angeles, brought into Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday afternoon when she refused to sign a traffic ticket on the road, was Connie Bennett, the movie star.

No one seemed to know today, although it was reported that in many respects her description closely tallied with the film actress.

The woman was arrested as she was driving along Santa Ana boulevard in an expensive car, on a charge of passing a school bus while it was unloading school children.

Lloyd Grover, member of the California highway patrol made the arrest, but when he presented Miss Bennett with the ticket to sign, guaranteeing her appearance in court here at a later date, she refused to sign. Grover was patient, he reported, but it did not go good, so he brought the woman and her male companion into Justice Morrison's court.

Makes Treats

Grover said she told him that his job would not be his within a week and that she would take the matter up with Governor Ralph immediately. Even after she reached Justice Morrison's court she refused to sign the ticket.

"What are you trying to do, raise more money for your schools?" she asked, "or are you trying to raise money after the earthquake?" she taunted the officer.

When she arrived in court Justice Morrison told her she would have to sign the ticket or go to jail. "I'll not sign it," she said. "Take her over to jail then, officer, and return her here tomorrow morning for a hearing," Morrison ordered.

Finally Signs

With this, she decided her signature probably was not so hard to get after all. She signed.

Her ticket calls for her appearance before Justice Morrison at 10 a. m. on April 10.

Five other persons were arrested yesterday by state highway officers for violation of the state law regarding school busses, all arrested for failure to stop while the busses were discharging school children. They were: H. Bosworth, 2029 South Maple street, Santa Ana; Tom Mahon, Jr., of 205 East St. Andrews, Santa Ana; J. A. Scott, Salt Lake City; Herbert C. Mosher, Los Angeles and Lawrence Ames, of Highland Park.

ELROY LUCERO, S. A. MERCHANT, ANSWERS CALL

Elroy Lucero, 47, prominent Santa Ana business man, passed away suddenly yesterday at Casa Blanca, Riverside county, where he also conducted a store. Death came as a result of a heart attack.

Lucero, well known in Santa Ana, had conducted a store at 2025 West Fifth street for many years.

He is survived by his widow, Faustina Lucero Cowman, well known Spanish dancer, and a sister, Mrs. Flora Delgado, all of whom reside in Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held in the chapel of the Winbiger Funeral home, 409 North Main street, tomorrow at 2 p. m. with the Rev. B. E. Garcia, pastor of the Mexican Methodist church of Santa Ana officiating. The Rev. Garcia will be assisted by the Rev. Antonio Jimenez of Anaheim in officiating at the services.

Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

SEARCH CONDUCTED FOR MISSING MAN

Police were today making a search for John Drenning, of 523 East Third street, reported missing from his home since April 4. In ill health for some time due to an accident, fear is felt for his safety. He left home to go to a local physician's office, it was reported to police and has not been seen or heard from since that time.

Drenning is 67 years old, weighs 150 pounds, is five feet, six inches

FOREIGN LOAN RESTRICTIONS TO BE DRASTIC

Administration changes proposed in the securities act would place foreign bond issues on an identical basis with American securities insofar as regulation and publication of facts are concerned.

But the administration bill relates wholly to the advertising of securities for sale.

Johnson's bill proposes creation of a federal securities board composed of the secretary of state, secretary of commerce and the governor of the federal reserve board. No bonds of foreign governments or corporations could be sold here without the board's permission.

In a series of 54 specific questions, the Johnson bill would elicit virtually all existing information regarding the past, present and future status of any foreign borrowers. It includes most of the stipulations of the administration bill.

Outstanding in the Johnson bill is provision authorizing the foreign securities board to determine the advisability of any foreign flotation on the following basis:

1.—General financial condition of the borrower.

2.—Trade position of the borrower's country.

3.—Political stability of the borrower's country.

4.—Security available for the loan.

5.—Remedies available in case of default.

6.—Proposed method of financing the loan.

7.—Existence of circumstances affecting the United States money market or the foreign exchange situation.

8.—Existence of circumstances which in the opinion of the board might affect relations of the United States with any foreign government.

In height and has blue eyes and gray hair. When he left home he was wearing a gray overcoat, a gray topcoat, blue trousers, gray hat, tan shoes, and a gray shirt.

Check Case Goes To Jury Today

Attorneys for A. O. Hunsaker and his son O. K. Hunsaker, and Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, this morning completed their arguments to the jury in the trial of the two Hunsakers, accused of issuing a worthless check.

The Hunsakers are on trial for issuing a check for $129.50 to the Balboa Hardware and Marine Supply company, in payment for an outboard motor. At the time the check was written, it is alleged, the Hunsakers had a balance of 29 cents in the bank. They were involved, at the time in oil operations in the San Juan Capistrano area.

MOTHER ASKS $100,500 FOR SON'S DEATH

Mrs. Mable C. Levins is in department one, superior court, today attempting to secure judgment for $100,500 for the death, December 23, 1931, of her 19-year-old son, Jasper Orlando Levins Jr., a sailor in the United States navy.

Elery H. Clark is defendant in the action.

Jasper Levins, divorced husband of Mrs. Levins, has filed an intervenor, alleging that where a man has not deserted his family he has the preferential right to prosecute an action of this type. Unable to be in court today, Levins agreed, through attorneys representing himself and Mrs. Levins, that his former wife is to prosecute the action, and if awarded judgment, they will divide as to who shall receive the damages.

According to charges in the complaint, young Levins was killed when the automobile which he was driving was involved in a collision with an automobile driven by Clark. The accident happened on Delaware boulevard, near Huntington Beach.

Mrs. Levins is suing for $100,000 for the death of her son and for $500 damages for his automobile, which was destroyed.

BEER ELECTION FOR SANTA ANA SEEMS ASSURED

An election in Santa Ana to determine whether or not alcoholic beer can be sold in the city limits loomed as almost a certainty today when cafe owners announced that more than the required number of signatures have been secured on the initiative petition to force a vote on the question.

The number of signatures required in the petition to call a vote on the beer question is 2270, which represents 15 per cent of the total vote cast at the last city election, which was 15,131 votes, according to cafe owners.

In all probability the signed petitions will be presented officially to the city clerk and the matter will come up at the regular meeting Monday night, it was said.

The regular procedure is for the petition to be filed with city clerk, who has 10 days for the purpose of checking the names on the petitions. Then it can be turned over to the city council for disposition.

Many cafe owners are of the opinion that it will not be necessary to hold an election in Santa Ana, believing that state legislation will make it unnecessary.

Jim Corral, Santa Ana, was arrested by Santa Ana Police Officers W. H. Heard and J. F. McWilliams last night. He was lodged in the county jail on a drunk charge.

What's the Value of a TRADE-MARK?

TODAY the Chesterfield trade-mark is very valuable. Back of it is the good will of thousands—perhaps hundreds of thousands—of smokers.

Chesterfield cigarettes were first manufactured more than 25 years ago. At the start, they were sold at a loss, but the quantity sold increased steadily from year to year, until now Chesterfields are sold in great volume at a very small percentage of profit.

The Chesterfield trade-mark, as indicated above, is registered in the United States Patent Office. This means that the United States Government says that only Chesterfield may use this trade-mark for cigarettes.

This is not only for our protection, but for yours as well, because what the Chesterfield trade-mark really means is that you and all Chesterfield smokers will get Chesterfields manufactured under the same formula, by the same people, and in all respects absolutely the same, in every package you buy, year in and year out.

Wherever you buy them, in this or in any other country, you can depend upon the Chesterfield trade-mark.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tinymites all started out quite willingly to look about and try and find the Midget Man. "Let's separate," said one. "If we all go together, we will waste much time. It seems to me let's hurry now. Instead of waiting, I think we should run." They Duncy said, "I guess that I will wait right here. I'll call and try to make our old friend hear me. If he does, he will appear."

Then, as he flopped upon the ground, wee Scouty slowly looked around and said, "It is the running you're objecting to, I fear."

"Why sure," cried Copper. "We know him. He never seems to be in trim when there is something to be done. He'll loaf right there, at ease."

"But come, the rest of us—like around and go wherever we like. I guess I'll do my searching back among the big tall trees."

And so the lads ran here and there. Their little voices filled the air. However, it did them no good to call the Midget Man. They searched for 'bout an hour or so. Then one said, "Well, we'd better go right back and join wee Duncy. We have done all that we can."

While they were gone, wee Duncy found some little tracks along the ground. They made him rather curious. He trailed them for a spell. You can imagine his surprise when, suddenly, his little eyes discovered Midget Man. The others heard him yell.

"Come here! Come here! I've found our friend! On me you always can depend." The other Tinymites rushed up, as surprised as they could be.

They found the Midget Man was tied up to a tree. He smiled and sighed, "Some of the midget monkeys played this crazy trick on me."

(The Midget Man takes the Tinymites to his home, in the next story.)

Harbor Churches Prepare For Easter Services

ARRANGE PLAYS, OPERETTA AND SPECIAL MUSIC

NEWPORT BEACH, April 6.—An elaborate program, including sermons, plays, an Easter operetta, and much special music in keeping with the Easter season, has been arranged by the Protestant churches of the harbor district, the Costa Mesa Community church, and Christ Church by the Sea at Newport Beach.

The Costa Mesa church is beginning its Easter program with two sermons on Palm Sunday by the church pastor, the Rev. W. I. Lowe, the morning sermon being on the theme, "Decisive Religion," and the 7:30 o'clock sermon, "Not Ready for the King." On Tuesday evening, April 11, the Rev. Wilfrid Rowntree will speak at the Costa Mesa church on the topic, "An Empty Cross and a Risen Lord," and on Wednesday evening the Rev. Mr. Lowe will speak on "Wednesday of Passion Week." Holy communion will be observed at both churches on Thursday evening, the Rev. Grow S. Brown bringing the message at the Costa Mesa church, and the Rev. Russell C. Stroup speaking at the Newport Beach church on the theme, "The Brimming Cup."

On Good Friday, the Rev. Mr. Stroup will preach on "The Meaning of the Cross" and Fred White and Andy Mandel will sing selected solos at an evening gathering at the church. The Rev. J. T. Ogle will speak at the Costa Mesa church in the evening on "The Seven Words from the Cross," and special music will be given.

Easter Sunday services will begin with a sunrise service at 5:15 o'clock on the Hill of the Cross at Balboa for Newport Beach people, and a 6 o'clock morning consecration service in the church at Costa Mesa. A play, "Another Chance," depicting the resurrection, by the Rev. Mr. Stroup, will be given in the Newport Beach church on Sunday evening by the Rev. Stroup, Marion Dickey, Jean Louise Bodeman, Patricia Torrance and Fred White. Costa Mesa people will hear an operetta, "The Crucifixion," sung by the church choir.

The Costa Mesa church choir will give the operetta, "The Crucifixion," at the Christian Missionary Alliance church at Santa Ana on Good Friday evening.

Newport Beach people will also have sunset services on the beach in front of the grammar school buildings on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock on April 15.

DISCUSS ELECTION ON BONDS TONIGHT

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—Citizens of Garden Grove will meet at the Legion hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight to discuss the advisability of holding a school bond election. Funds are needed for repairs on the high school building, which was damaged in the earthquake, and to make up the deficit in the high school budget.

SCHOOL MERGER BILL IS OPPOSED IN YORBA LINDA

YORBA LINDA, April 6.—Yorba Linda Chamber of commerce directors yesterday passed a resolution protesting assembly bill 897, which provides that all grammar schools be brought under a consolidated district following the outlines of the present high school district in which that grammar school lies.

The members of the chamber agreed that such consolidation is adverse to home rule, and showed figures presented by Mrs. Mabel Paine, principal of the school, wherein the local school board has reduced the budget of the grammar school 25 per cent the past year.

In opposing this bill, the chamber acted in the same capacity as

TALK ON INDIA FOR P.-T. A. IN GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—William McClain, teacher of social sciences in the local high school, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the High School P.-T. A., held in the Washington school this week. Mr. McClain, who spent several years in India and attended school there while his father was employed as a construction engineer, gave a two-hour talk on "India," and exhibited a number of curios.

Isamu Nasuda, junior in the high school, who won first place in annual public speaking contest held at Pasadena, gave his oration, "The Second Generation of Japanese in America."

Parts from the operetta, "The Mikado," to be presented in the high school auditorium tonight and Friday evenings, were presented by the glee clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Otis Feamster. The songs were "Three Little Maids From School" and "Braid the Raven Hair."

During the business session the following nominating committee was appointed to report at the next meeting: Mrs. J. A. Knapp, Mrs. L. L. Trickey and J. L. Mitchell.

Announcement was made of the district meeting to be held at the Washington school April 20. Mrs. E. A. Wakeman was appointed general chairman of the luncheon committee, with all P.-T. A. members assisting.

Ralph Chaffee announced a meeting to be sponsored by the chamber of commerce in the Legion hall Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock to discuss voting bonds to relieve the financial situation in the high school district. J. A. Knapp, L. L. Dolg, Edward Chaffee and Mrs. J. P. Hayhurst were appointed as a committee to represent the High School P.-T. A. Preceding the meeting a potluck dinner was in charge of the junior mothers, with Mrs. E. A. Wakeman as general chairman. The occasion being the birthday anniversary of the president, Mrs. Hayhurst, she was presented with a basket of lovely flowers.

PARTY STAGED BY COMMUNITY CLUB

FULLER PARK, April 6.—The Fuller Park Community club held a novel party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Guthrie on Carol drive with 35 present. Community singing was led by W. J. Robertson accompanied by Mrs. Dick Burdort. A. L. Cook gave a vocal number.

Mrs. Clara Liedke, of Fullerton, gave several readings in costume impersonating the village gossip, followed by guitar and vocal numbers by Raymond Boyd and Bill Wilford. W. J. Robertson sang a group of Scotch songs. During the short business meeting Mrs. Harlan Miller was chosen to fill the office of secretary caused by the resignation of Rees Blythe. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Schulz and Mrs. Lundy.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McProud on West Commonwealth at Magnolia, April 14.

Present were W. J. Robertson, Mrs. Clara Liedke, Raymond Boyd and Bill Wilford, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Burdort and children, of Fullerton; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lundy, of Alhambra; Raymond Hill, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cook and son, Bill; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Schulz, Mr. and Mrs. Rees Blythe and daughters, Ruby and Betty; Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Miller, Mrs. J. M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. F. Oelke, Guy Staplin, of Fuller Park; Miss Margaret Jones of Buena Park; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. McProud, Hobart McProud and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. F. Guthrie.

BREA BOARD TO CALL ELECTION ON BEER, WINE

BREA, April 6.—City councilmen decided at their meeting last night to meet again next Monday night, when they will set a date for an election to decide whether or not beer and wine are to be sold.

Applications for sales, filed by Joe Nichols and Henry Curran, proprietors of the Brea garage, and by the Safeway store, were tabled.

Harlan LeGro, druggist, was the first spokesman. LeGro stated that two petitions were being circulated for the repeal of the city ordinance, adopted in 1920, prohibiting the sale of any drink with more than one-tenth of one per cent alcohol content. His contention was that liquor sales would make for better business.

W. E. Carley, barber, declared that more than 90 per cent of the business men of Brea had signed the petition, which now carries more than 200 names. A. N. White, field superintendent of the Brea Canon Oil company, said that many of the men in the oil district wanted beer. Both White and J. B. Phillips believed that the election proposed by the councilmen as the only proper way of deciding the problem, could and should be eliminated since they believed that the people of Brea had expressed themselves on the question at the November election. Councilmen were firm in their stand for referring the matter to the citizens of the town.

The council voted to enter a protest on restrictions of the R. F. C. in an expenditure of its funds. Mayor Hogue and Superintendent of Streets Fred Boxall had a work program outlined whereby from $3000 to $4000 of the fund might be expended in Brea with benefit to the unemployed. The plan had received the approval of the board of supervisors.

City Clerk Grace May asked if a further extension could be made on city taxes after April 20. It was suggested that the state legislature might be working out some such relief and the matter of extension of tax payments will await that result.

STAR CLUB OPENS CARD SERIES SOON

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—Members of the Monday Afternoon Star club gathered at the home of Mrs. L. W. Schauer on North Euclid street for their regular monthly meeting.

At the business session it was decided to start a series of card parties, the first party to be held on April 20 at the home of Mrs. Mabel Williams, on West Chapman avenue, with the following committee in charge: Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Ethel Schauer, Mrs. Louise Lake, Mrs. Glee Newsum, Mrs. Edith Skewis, Mrs. Mabel Dolg, Mrs. Alice Smith and Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg.

Prizes will be given at each party and at the conclusion of the series the grand prize of a silk hand crocheted rug, which was made by Mrs. Dorothy Thornburg, will be awarded to the holder of high score.

Announcement was made of the regular meeting of the Eastern Star chapter in the K. of P. hall in Anaheim April 13 at 8 o'clock, when the visit of the deputy grand matron, Elsie Gillogly, of Orange, will be made. Work of the order will be exemplified and following a reception will be held and refreshments served.

Guests of the club were Mrs. Mabel Lambert, of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Edna Leamy, while members present were Mesdames Emma Kearns, Mabel Jackson, Mabel Dolg, Alice Keele, Minnie Lynch, Phyllis Gill, Mary Clark, Anola Nearing, Dorothy Jentges, Mary Johnson, Catherine Paul, Helen Woodworth, Mabel Williams, Ella Wheeler, Pauline Merchant, Anna Larson, Camille Nichols, Dorothy Thornburg, Glee Newsum, Louise Lake, Edith Skewis, Emma Henry, Alice Smith, Bonnie Forbach, F. District Seeks New Water Pipe

MIDWAY CITY, April 6.—Plans for improving water system No. 1 of Midway City were discussed at a meeting of water users Monday evening at which 25 were present.

The water mains were reported in a rusty condition. They do not give a sufficient head of water in case of fire, so the idea was advanced that new mains be installed. Pipe in districts Nos. 2 and 3 is all new, while pipe in No. 1 district was bought second-hand. Ed. L. Hensley, secretary of the water company, was instructed to see an attorney in regard to the necessary procedure for raising funds with which to replace the mains.

The district is bounded by Roosevelt street on the north, Huntington Beach boulevard on the west, Bolea boulevard on the south and Monroe on the east. There are 270 lots which would come in for taxation.

There would be 910 feet of three-inch pipe necessary and $200 feet of 2 1/2 inch pipe.

FULLERTON COLLEGE CHOIR IN PLACENTIA CLUB PROGRAM

PLACENTIA, April 6.—The Fullerton College choir presented an Easter program at Placentia Round Table club yesterday afternoon, under direction of Benjamin Edwards. Anna Huseoff took the solo part in the last number.

At the opening of the session, Dorothy Bauman of Fullerton, a student of A. Casselotti of Los Angeles, sang a group of numbers.

Mrs. Louis Jacobson presided at the business session. Mrs. Leon Gillman, who has been elected president for the coming year, announced her program committee as Mrs. George Lillie, Mrs. Alpha Salveson and Mrs. Frank Downing.

Business included electing delegates to the county federated club meeting April 21 and to the state convention. Delegates to the county convention are Miss Emily Cliff, Mrs. Lillie, Mrs. Halsey I. Spence and Mrs. Gillman. Mrs. B.

CARD PARTY FOR MESA AUXILIARY

COSTA MESA, April 6.—The Costa Mesa Legion auxiliary met Tuesday evening in the home of the auxiliary president, Mrs. J. C. Payne, of Fairview avenue.

Mrs. Altrude Day, auxiliary rehabilitation chairman, reported $25 given for rehabilitation and child welfare work during the past month.

Plans were made for a card party to be held Thursday, at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Rose Mellett, on Broadway. Prizes will be given and refreshments served at the close of the game.

The auxiliary voted to order 300 poppies to be sold on poppy day.

ness the hostess served light refreshments to the following: Mesdames L. McInnis, Lyda Kuehl and daughter, Margaret, Lola Anderson, Rose Mellett, Mary Lambert and Judy Wilcox, and Mesdames L. Anderson, Lambert and Payne.

KREG FROLIC DRAWS CROWD FOR PREMIER

The KREG Carnival Hour, being presented every Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 8 to 10 p. m. by direct wire from the Empire Market drew a record crowd at its first presentation today.

Waltie Griggs, an old time vaudeville star who is serving as master of ceremonies, proved to be one of the big attractions of the program. His wise cracks were one of the high spots of the presentation.

The presentation, which the Empire Market invites the public to witness during the presentation includes 16 artists and is well worth seeing, as well as listening to over the radio. Ample accommodations have been made to handle the crowds which watch these broadcasts.

Presentation of two consecutive episodes of the adventures of Chanda, the Magician, will be heard tonight. These episodes will be presented 15 minutes apart at 8:15 and 8:45 p. m. These episodes are unusually interesting and absorbing with thrills and mystery galore.

A group of talented artists from Los Angeles will entertain tonight over KREG from 9 to 10 o'clock during presentation of the Spanish program. These artists are presented every Thursday through courtesy of Mr. Shuster of the Globe Milling company.

THURSDAY, April 6—(Read Psalm 90:1-4)
Living in the Lasting

Here is the timeless wonder of human life. We are children of brief time and yet we are never at home save in the Everlasting. Our true dwelling place is in the Lord. What then have we to fear from time? But how can we live in the Eternal? Well, whenever we love purely, we live in the lasting. Love does not belong to time at all, nor does goodness. Can we think of any time or place where goodness can be with time except thereby always to become more luminous and ample. Faith and hope belong not to the temporal aspect of our lives but to the timeless also. Even our most transient thoughts and deeds may thus have in them some quality of the ageless. For those who seek thus to live the summons to the unknown land need cause no fear—they can not go where God is not.

Prayer: O Thou Who has set eternity in our hearts and made us in our need and longing children of the Eternal, so deliver us from the fear of the transient by our citizenship in the enduring that some foregleam of our home with Thee may touch all the ways of our lives. Thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations, may we seek now to make Thee our dwelling place. In His name Who found in Thee His dwelling place. Amen.

LITTLE R. F. C. MONEY NEED BE SPENT FOR ADMINISTRATION

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, acting under the Federal enactment, is granting money to Orange county, as it has been to many other or most of the counties in the country. Fifty thousand dollars is the allotment to this county.

This is a provision in the law permitting 17 per cent of the amount that is allotted to be used for administrative purposes. The thought in this law is that this amount may be used for administration, that is, for paying people, who are not under the list of the unemployed or the needy, a fair wage for the purpose of checking up and administering the balance of the funds.

We are very happy in this county to know that a very small portion of this amount of money will be needed for administrative work in the county.

Of course it will cost more the first month, and from then on there will be a constantly decreasing amount for administration.

This work has been so thoroughly done, and there are already such complete records of the various agencies, and particularly the unemployed group, that the needy ones are known. There have been so many capable volunteers doing this work, who can now be used on these very cases, that practically all this money can be used for the needy of the county. And unquestionably the Welfare department will have this in mind.

There is a vast deal of difference in carrying on welfare work in a county like Orange, and a county like Los Angeles. We live in an open country. It is not difficult to check up on the frauds. There is not so much change in residence. We have men, such as are serving on the committee in the city of Santa Ana, which has been appointed by the Mayor, who do work that in cities like Los Angeles must be paid for, and these people still should be utilized. Even in a big city like Chicago or Los Angeles, 17 per cent of a fund is an outrageous amount to be used for administrative purposes. The work should be so conducted that the largest amount of the dollar that is granted by the government, should go to those who are in need of it.

In the money that has been contributed through the committee that has had charge of the welfare work here in the city of Santa Ana, there has been less than seven per cent used for administrative purposes—the balance has gone actually into the homes of those in need. There is no question but what this could be done, if properly organized, for there are people who have given their services, and will give their services.

Undoubtedly the Welfare department of the county will work this out along this line. The law, and those who interpret it, clearly specify who are entitled to work and assistance, and we should be happy that it will come as a legal right, and not as a matter of caprice or favoritism.

UNEMPLOYED SELECT HIGH-SALARIED MEN

In New York the other day 1771 unemployed men who are being taken care of by the Salvation Army were asked what ten men in the world deserve the highest salary. Men in those circumstances would be as critical judges as their education and intelligence would permit. The ten were: any President of the United States; Babe Ruth; Al Smith; Jack Dempsey; Franklin D. Roosevelt; Henry Ford; Charles M. Schwab; Herbert Hoover; Joe E. Brown and Joseph V. McKee who was acting mayor of New York City for a few months after James J. Walker resigned.

One wonders that a group whose necessities had led them to think would be so limited in their knowledge of the worthy individuals in the world. It is significant.

A speaker in Santa Ana the other night made apt comparison when he said that in one small city in the United States not one bank had reopened since the bank holiday and that the people were sitting around, no more knowing what to do than the Chinese who sit around their villages, impotent before crises.

Three of the ten men deserving the highest salaries are entertainers. Others show the insularity of the people of the United States which James Turslow Adams says is accountable for much of the impotency of Congress. No one section understands the needs and interests of other sections so as to cooperate readily in accomplishing worth-while legislation. One or two of the ten are so obviously candidates for position in the list as to carry no significance.

Similar lists from a variety of people all over the country would be an interesting revelation of the standards of the people of the United States.

CHICAGO CHILDREN STRIKE

Thirteen thousand Chicago pupils struck yesterday in protest against the delay in paying their teachers. It seems that Chicago is $52,000,000 behind in the pay of its teachers, and these pupils want to see the teachers paid. Very probably the parents want to see them paid, and the teachers want to see themselves paid. We should imagine that it was pretty nearly unanimous.

Chicago is undoubtedly in the worst condition of any city in the country, though a great many have been rapidly sliding into that situation. We have felt that the bottom has been reached. There are many evidences that this is true. If it hasn't been reached, there isn't any bottom. But we believe there is, and we believe we are going on up.

We are not greatly in sympathy with those who declare that "we haven't seen anything yet." The appropriations by the Federal government for help to the great mass of the unemployed and needy are an assurance that society, in its organized capacity of government, the United States, feels this responsibility as we have felt it as a community, and is determined that this great rich country shall look after its people.

To be sure, this is not the solution of the problem. It is a make-shift and all that, but it will give the people of the country a degree of confidence in their government, and a confidence in the future, which is very helpful.

EARL DERR BIGGERS

One hardly disassociates the death of Earl Derr Biggers in a Pasadena hospital yesterday with the death of "Charlie Chan" for whose creation and activities the author was responsible. "Charlie Chan" was genial, wise, patient, human. A character worthy of association with Sherlock Holmes. It is interesting to compare the two fiction sleuths. To a marked degree they reflect the taste of the period in which they were created.

Mr. Biggers will be missed. There will be no more of "Charlie Chan" and there were times when he helped thousands to bear with life when it needed a bit of bearing.

"WHAT A BIG BOY AM I"

A thief in Denver stole 2,500,000 pieces of jig-saw puzzle. That is quite a puzzle. For a jig-saw addict it is worth the stealing. He will be caught. When he has put them together he will not be able to resist the temptation of showing off his completed puzzle. The police have only to bide the passing of time and they can catch the thief.

A Sartorial Note

San Diego Union

When Mr. Charles E. Mitchell was indicted for income-tax evasion, "the foreman of the grand jury considered the occasion so momentous that he dressed in morning coat and striped trousers."

This item of information from the news-magazine Time, is both comical and appalling. As a sartorial tribute to the defendant's social position, it is a touch appropriate of "Of Thee I Sing." But as a comment on the ancient principle of equality before the law, it is devastating.

We make no gesture to pre-judge Mitchell's guilt or innocence—the indictment itself is not a recognition of guilt. But Mitchell's presumption of innocence is no greater, before the law, than that of a thug in overalls indicted for robbing a mail-box. It was not in deference to this presumption that the foreman donned his morning coat.

There is a curious and unspoken acceptance of wealth as a criterion of "respectability," so that in a case like Mr. Mitchell's—even when the wealthy man's general course of conduct is condemned—the presence of the man himself commands a show of deference. Even if he must be arrested, he is arrested apologetically. If he must be indicted, the thing is done with a certain formal grace—or an attempt at it.

As in other countries, class-consciousness in America has many by-products. Its consequences in the administration of justice might be worth studying. Is it possible in practice to administer strict justice in a deferential manner?

We have never heard of a partnership between a criminal lawyer and a tailor, but perhaps such a combine might do a profitable business.

Wisconsin Declares Milk To Be Public Utility

Riverside Enterprise

Milk is declared a "public utility" by the Wisconsin legislature. As such, its price is to be fixed and its distribution regulated in 22 cities of the state for a period of two years.

One's first inclination may be to laugh at the idea of putting milk in the same category of utilities as railroads and electricity. Yet children must have milk as surely as grown-ups must have transportation and light. Where are we going to draw the line?

No answer is expected to the question. Our Federal and state governments are extending political regulation to many essentials of modern life never treated so before. We are now engaged especially in making bank credit a public utility available for all under uniform conditions. How much farther we shall go, no one can tell.

More Truth Than Poetry

CATS IS CATS

Last winter you were much extolled,
Your virtues seemed beyond all price;
I thought you worth your weight in gold
Because you caught such hordes of mice.
I found you always on the watch
With stern and unrelenting ardor:
You made it your one aim to scotch
The small despoilers of the larder.

Your ears would catch the tiniest squeak,
Your tail would bulge, your eyeballs flame,
And you would hasten forth to seek
The hidden source from which it came.
One bite was commonly enough
A throbbing spinal chord to sever,
And one, or maybe many mice,
Became innocuous forever.

Your popularity, alas,
Was destined not to linger long.
Today you crouch upon the grass
And listen to a robin's song.
The happy chorister you scan,
Not stirred by any admiration,
Not you! You're working out a plan
To compass his assassination.

Full well aware of what I think
About the deed you mean to do,
When I appear you rise and slink
With silent footfalls from my view.
But though I chide you till I'm hoarse,
No law of man or legislature,
Or even Congress, can enforce
A change in native feline nature.

Maybe Babe Ruth reasoned that anybody would pay to see a guy who sold out for more than $50,000.

Another good way to guarantee deposits: Shoot anybody who parks near a bank with the motor running.

The turn is near when discussion of economic problems makes you want to spit up.

The dog is man's best friend. If you keep a dog, there's never anything left for hash.

Good times: When you are blowing in what you saved in hard times.

THE BOSS OF THE HOUSE IS THE ONE WHO NEVER TAKES MEDICINE BUT DELIGHTS IN DOSING THE OTHERS.

"Roosevelt is absolute boss," says an editorial. Yeah? Who was it that said, as the President prepared to affix his signature in the presence of cameras: "Franklin, brush your hair back."

Another reason marriages fail is because no house is big enough for two people who weren't spanked enough.

It's easy to get along with a woman. When you quarrel and she's in the wrong, you just apologize.

AMERICANISM: Yearning to hang the alien Red who says hard things about America; calling the native a great critic because he says the same things.

No wonder Mr. Roosevelt gets a good "press." The doorman announces newshawks to him as "gentleman."

America is baffled. For the first time in history it has a national hero without a nickname in sight to fit him.

Closing doors by this photo-electric process has some advantages, but it won't help to finish an argument.

The country is getting sner. Its scare didn't last nearly as long as its belief that stocks would always go up.

Ancient rulers washed their hands. The modern way to relieve yourself of all responsibility is to honk.

A free country is one in which your opinions don't cost you anything if you keep your fool mouth shut.

Once upon a time there was a man who could mention household expenses without starting a row. All fairy stories begin that way.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

A ROOSEVELT CONTRIBUTION

Mr. Roosevelt has made a very real contribution to American statecraft in an incidental sentence in his message presenting his domestic allotment bill. Readers of these articles know by now that the domestic allotment scheme, in my judgment, not a statesmanlike policy and is destined to prove futile.

But, as I have said, in an incidental sentence in the message proposing the bill to congress, Mr. Roosevelt did an unprecedented thing for an American political leader—he admitted that he might be wrong about the domestic allotment idea, that he advanced the policy frankly as an experiment that might fail.

If, after a fair administrative test, it should prove futile, he would, he said, be the first to admit it and so advise the congress.

This, I repeat, is something new under the political sun.

Half the political energy of the nation is often spent in the great game of politicians saving their faces when policies they presented as infallible cure-alls fall down.

More politicians have lost their souls trying to save their faces than in any other way.

The Roosevelt approach to the domestic allotment scheme is a hopeful introduction of the scientific spirit into politics.

I wish it were connected with a more hopeful piece of legislation, but it is a magnificent advance anyway to have a President decline to assume infallibility respecting every proposal.

Mr. Roosevelt is profoundly right in saying these are unprecedented days calling for unprecedented willingness to attempt unprecedented solutions.

If Mr. Roosevelt can but establish a political tradition of courage in experimentation and candor in assessment of the results of experiments, he will have made a superb contribution to American statecraft.

In such a spirit, the Republicans can recast their philosophy of tariffs in terms of the changed conditions of world trade without seeming to turn traitor to their past. The Democrats can do some things they have hitherto damned without having to apologize to the memory of Jefferson.

It will redeem American politics from the vice of face saving which has so long held men to positions which, in their hearts, they knew to be obsolete.

CENSORSHIP

I am for freedom of speech, freedom of the public press and of the stage. I believe that a man ought to have the privilege of saying what is in his mind to whatever audience he can reach, provided the audience is adult, having arrived at years of discretion. I think protection ought to be afforded children, not by the public, but by their own parents.

A mother protests about the comic strip her son reads to the exclusion of everything else in the paper or in the library of his own home. Her idea is that the paper ought to be prohibited from publishing this strip. Make a law about it. Why not buy a paper that has a comic strip that one can approve? Tastes differ, which is the reason for so many different types of reading matter, and of comic strips.

Another anxious parent complains that there are certain programs on the radio that are not good for her child. "I think," she writes, "that you ought to work to have a law made to force the radio broadcasting stations into giving programs that parents can approve." Which parents? There are as many opinions about those programs as there are listeners. Isn't it a simple matter to turn off the radio if there is something on the air that you do not like? A twist of the wrist and there is silence where there was an irritating noise. And there is still another way.

Many a paper publishes a fine comic strip for children and nobody says a word about it. The good that is done passes unnoticed. The day there is a questionable picture, the telephone shrills in protest, the mails bring note after note, one more bitter than the other. Why not send the paper or the radio station people a note of approval when the work is good? They are anxious to please you. They want your good word. Let them know when they have won it and you will get what you like oftener.

"The book my child brought home from the library ought not to be printed, much less distributed to young people," writes a very angry mother whose daughter brought home a modern novel from the public library. The daughter was a senior in high school, but her mother clung to the notion that she was unaware of the facts of life in their complete implications. "The man who wrote that book, the stores that sold it, the publishers and the librarians

SOMETHING WRONG

"Auntie," asked little Ruth, "why do you put powder on your face?"

"To make me pretty, dear."

Little Ruth thought for a moment. "Auntie," she suggested, "perhaps you're not using the right powder."—Karkaturen.
